Birthdays celebrated were those of Jess Robinette, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hook, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Tracy, Ralph Hurr, Homer Penwell and Kenneth Craig.

2 more Wilmington policemen suspended

WILMINGTON — The 16-man Wilmington Police Department received another shock Friday when two patrolmen were suspended for allegedly withholding information from a Monday shooting incident for which another city police officer has been charged with aggravated murder.

"This is absolutely the worst thing that could have happened," said Wilmington Police Chief Thomas E. White, who was appointed chief five months ago. "I want it known that these men had absolutely nothing to do with Monday's shooting case. They're fine officers, both of them. But this case is of such a serious nature that we felt any holding back of information during the investigation is cause for suspension," White said.

The two police officers suspended Friday were Ursel Webb, 37, a member of the force since January, 1967, and Paul Dischner, 32, a city patrolman for the past three years. A Civil Service Commission hearing will be held on the suspensions if the two officers request one.

THE TWO MEN were suspended for allegedly not telling investigators everything they knew about the

Name chief for Armco

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. has named Harry Holiday to succeed Donald Reichelderfer as president of the firm effective May 1.

Reichelderfer is retiring.

Also elected at Friday's board meeting was Gordon Hughes, who will take over as group vice president responsible for the steel firm.

Hughes joins executive vice president D. C. Boone, Holiday, and chairman and chief executive officer William Verity in the company's corporate executive office.

Armco announced Friday it was declaring a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share of common stock.

A regular quarterly dividend of 52.5 cents per share of cumulative convertible preferred stock was also announced.

'No justification', energy czar says

$3.73 profit on 10-cent oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil companies are making a profit of $3.73 per barrel on some Arab oil that costs 10 cents to produce, says new energy chief John C. Sawhill.

As U.S. oil companies continued to report huge first-quarter profit increases, Sawhill told newsmen Friday that a large portion came from producing foreign oil — including oil the Arabs withheld from the United States during their embargo.

Company profits on some Saudi Arabian oil soared in one year from 79 cents to $3.73 per barrel, Sawhill said.

Although government price controls supposedly limit petroleum price increases to those justified by increased costs, there appears to be no legal barrier to these increased profits.

The increase, if allowed to flow through unchecked into the U.S. market, could cost American consumers some $2.7 billion a year.

Sawhill said there was "no economic justification" for the huge profit jump on so-called "equity oil," which amounts to 14 per cent of the total oil used in the United States.

Threat of illicit bomb disclosed in AEC report

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The potential harm to the public from the explosion of an illicitly made nuclear weapon is greater than that from any plausible nuclear power plant accident," an Atomic Energy Commission report says.

The report, which discusses the possibility of terrorists stealing nuclear materials to make their own atomic bombs, was prepared by AEC official Dr. David M. Rosenbaum and four outside consultants.

It was made public Friday by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Its authors said they believe present methods for protecting facilities and transport of nuclear materials is not sufficient.

The AEC said it is "taking a hard look at the study to determine what additional measures should be taken to further strengthen the requirements to safeguard nuclear materials from theft."

The report said that acquiring the nuclear material is the only remaining obstacle facing those who want such a weapon because there is "widespread and increasing dissemination of precise and accurate instructions on how to make an atomic bomb in your basement."

The study also said the kidnapping of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst, as claimed by the Symbionese Liberation Army, was no isolated incident.

"If not firmly and competently met, these kidnappings may lead to a rise of urban terrorist groups of a sort unprecedented in our history," the report said.

English art theft loss $20.4 million

BLESSINGTON, Ireland (AP) — A gang of gunmen led by a young woman raided the country home of a gold mining millionaire Friday night and stole 16 masterpieces worth an estimated $20.4 million.

It apparently was the world's largest robbery.

The value of the art works was given by James White, director of Dublin's National Gallery, where the paintings often were on exhibit. Police, however, would not comment on the value of the paintings owned by Sir Alfred Beit.

Beit's wife, Clementine, told newsmen one of the gunmen dragged her out of the mansion in this village south of Dublin, kicked her and flung her on the stone stairs, shouting: "We'll be back for you later."

Irish police said the woman, speaking with a French accent, knocked at the door to Beit's 18th century home, and when a young servant opened the door three armed men pushed inside. Beit, 71, and his wife were listening to records in the drawing room.

"They rushed in shouting 'capitalist pigs' and told us that we were walking on the working class," Beit said. "One of them put a revolver against my neck. I turned and he hit me."

The Beits and their four servants were tied up, police said, while the woman, apparently very knowledgeable about art, casually selected the best of Beit's treasures.

She first chose the most valuable of the stolen paintings — a small Vermeer named "Woman Writing a Letter" valued at $7.2 million. Also taken were works by Vermeer, Franz Hals, Goya, Reubens, Gainsborough, Velasquez, Guardi, Moreelse, Ruisdael and Metsus.

The whole operation, police said, was over in seven minutes.

Detectives theorized that the thieves were members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army and may have taken the paintings to use as ransom to free guerrillas jailed in the Irish republic.

The largest robbery listed in the Guinness Book of World Records was $11.5 million in gold bars and bank notes stolen by American servicemen and German civilians in June 1945 from a mountainside cache near Einsiedel, Bavaria.

The biggest previous art theft occurred on Dec. 31, 1966, when eight masterpieces valued at $7 million were taken from London's Dulwich College art gallery.

By The Associated Press

U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum Friday accused his Democratic primary opponent, John Glenn, of conducting a malicious campaign of "personal vilification and distortion of fact."

James Schiller, Metzenbaum's campaign manager, sent a complaint to the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in Washington charging Glenn with seven counts of violating the fair campaign practices code.

The action came shortly after Glenn's headquarters released a telegram from Frank R. Valeo, secretary of the U.S. Senate, saying he found "substantial reason to believe" nine charges of illegal campaign practices against Metzenbaum.

Schiller said the charges were "insubstantial" and accused Glenn of "using the office of the secretary of the Senate for his own cynical political ends."

Code violations listed by Schiller included distribution of a letter that casts "malicious doubt as to Sen. Metzenbaum's loyalty," bumper stickers linking him to President Nixon, and statements that Metzenbaum's house was built with nonunion labor and that he accepted an illegal corporate contribution.

Schiller asked the committee to "act speedily to put a stop to these tactics."

Glenn could not be reached for comment. But he has denied any knowledge of the letters questioning Metzenbaum's loyalty or the Metzenbaum-Nixon bumper stickers.

Earlier Friday, Metzenbaum announced he had withdrawn two campaign commercials which he said he had found to be "inappropriate."

Glenn had contended the commercials, which dealt with his voting record, were untrue and had threatened to complain to the Federal Communications Commission if they were not taken off the air.

Thus the charges and countercharges over campaign practices continued as the two candidates approached the final full week of the race before the May 7 primary.

Metzenbaum and Glenn were to appear together twice this weekend, answering questions from newsmen at an Ohio Associated Press Broadcasters Association meeting at Kings Island near Cincinnati Saturday night and on a Columbus television interview program Sunday morning.

Glenn's headquarters said the telegram from the secretary of the Senate advised William R. White, the former astronaut's finance director, that the charges against Metzenbaum would be investigated.

Two charges involved late registration by the Metzenbaum for Senate Committee and Metzenbaum Election Committee. The other seven charges involved failure of those two committees and five others to "reveal existing or connected organizations ..."

Glenn, campaigning in Cleveland, noted Ohio election laws are even tougher than federal laws, and "if Mr. Metzenbaum were running for state — instead of federal — office, he probably would have been ruled off the ballot."

Metzenbaum said in Dayton Friday that the charges were technical violations and should create "no problem at all."

Schiller said the charges "would be ludicrous were it not for the damage

Mitchell-Stans jury ponders perjury counts

NEW YORK (AP) — A jury resumes deliberations for the third day today in the trial of John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans after indicating it had shifted attention from the conspiracy charge to perjury counts against Mitchell.

The jury of nine men and three women got the case in federal court Thursday after a 10-week trial. Requests to the judge appear to mean they were moving straight through the 15-count indictment and had gotten about halfway.

Their first requests after beginning deliberations were for more information about the conspiracy charge — the first count against the two former Cabinet officers.

Late Friday, the jury asked Judge Lee P. Gagliardi to elaborate on two of six perjury counts against Mitchell, 60, the former attorney general.

The conspiracy count charges Mitchell and Stans with a corrupt agreement to impede a securities fraud investigation of financier Robert Vesco in return for Vesco's $200,000 secret cash contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign. The defendants quit the Cabinet to run the campaign.

After the conspiracy count are two counts of obstruction of justice against both defendants. The jury so far has not asked about them.

They allege an attempt to impede the Securities and Exchange Commission probe of Vesco and the massive civil fraud suit the SEC filed in 1972 against the New Jersey financier.

Vesco, 38, was indicated in the case but has fled the country.

The jury's request on the two Mitchell perjury counts involve a charge that he lied to a grand jury when he denied seeing Nixon campaign volunteer Daniel Hofgren at a Washington fund-raising reception on March 8, 1972, and that he lied in denying that he talked to Vesco lawyer Harry Sears in September 1972 about an SEC subpoena of Vesco.

At the jury's request, Gagliardi had parts of the trial testimony reread about the two incidents, as well as parts of his instructions about the perjury law.

Whooping cough epidemic checked

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Health officials said Cincinnati's whooping cough epidemic has reached 50 cases, but said they believe the spread of the disease has been curtailed.

"We think it has peaked," said City Health Commissioner William R. Elsea.

Only one case was reported Friday. Twelve of the 50 were hospitalized. Twenty-four of the cases were medical workers at Children's or General hospitals.

Disclose Haldeman had pile of cash to assist aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — H.R. Haldeman, while serving as White House chief of staff, kept a stack of cash in his safe to make gifts to White House employees, according to a former aide.

The disclosure came in testimony by Lawrence M. Higby given last December and unsealed Friday by U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey.

Higby, a former Haldeman aide now with the Office of Management and Budget, testified that Haldeman kept a stack of $100 and $20 bills.

Higby said he understood the money was given to Haldeman late in 1968 after President Nixon's election "to be passed on to those members of the staff who needed funds" for moving costs.

Haldeman, reached in California, declined comment.

In another development, the Senate Watergate committee is beginning its final process of writing a report.

Legislative proposals are flowing into the committee, but none have been approved or reviewed by the senators. The report is due May 28.

Some of the ideas have become public, including one to depoliticize the Justice Department and make it an independent agency.

Other proposals would make the FBI

and the Central Intelligence Agency independent agencies.

In other Watergate-related developments:

—President Nixon was reported considering a nationwide broadcast address next week as he continues his fight against impeachment. Such a speech, to allow Nixon to present his case directly to the public, is reported to be one of several options being considered.

—White House counselor Dean Burch said Nixon is preparing to give the House Judiciary Committee "compelling and persuasive" data next week. A committee subpoena for 42 presidential tapes is due Tuesday. Burch said after the President provides his information "the end of Watergate will be in sight."

—Former presidential appointments secretary Dwight L. Chapin was denied a new trial on his perjury conviction by a federal judge who said "the proof that the defendant deliberately lied was overwhelming."

—The perjury trial of California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke was delayed at the request of defense lawyers. Reinecke, seeking the GOP gubernatorial nomination, said there was nothing unusual in asking for the delay.

Chicagoans battle deadly chemical fog

CHICAGO (AP) — The threat of a potentially deadly chemical fog diminished today after it drifted up and away from an area of the South Side where it had forced the evacuation of thousands of persons.

Thirty persons suffering from dizziness, fainting and stinging eyes were taken to hospitals after the cloud formed Friday from a chemical pouring from a storage tank. Most were listed in fair condition. Five were admitted.

Civil Defense officials estimated 14,000 persons were evacuated from the Altdorf Gardens Housing project and nearby homes Friday night as the milk-colored cloud oozed across the South Side.

Some 2,000 were lodged overnight in a high school several miles from the scene and a temporary hospital was set up there.

"I was standing on the corner waiting for a bus," Mrs. Euler Terry said. "I couldn't breathe." She said she ran into her home to escape the fumes. "The stuff was coming in under the door ... it was coming in the windows."

Maxine Durham said her daughter collapsed from inhaling the gas. "Once we got on the bus, she was screaming in pain," Mrs. Durham said.

The chemical cloud, five miles long and one-half mile wide, appeared to be "under control," officials said early today. The cloud formed as the chemical flowed from an 18-inch crack in a storage tank at a rate of 100 gallons a minute.

Authorities said the main danger was that the chemical, silicon tetrachloride, could convert to deadly hydrochloric acid on contact with water, including rain and fog. Breathing the acid, they said, could be fatal. "The proper concentration and a couple of good whiffs and you'd be dead," a fire department spokesman said.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency said crews were hoping to seal the leak with a shipment of special foam. They said earlier attempts to control the situation by pumping out the 500,000-gallon tank had proved too slow.

Gov. Daniel Walker ordered out the Illinois National Guard to aid the evacuation and prevent looting but called back all units except a battalion of military police.

The silicon tetrachloride was in liquid form. However, it quickly vaporized on contact with air.

Agriculture effects on water quality topic for researchers

COSHOCTON — Cooperative research on how beef cattle and cropping systems affect water quality from agricultural watersheds has been announced by USDA's Agricultural Research Service (ARS) and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center (OARDC), Wooster.

Results of the studies will affect agricultural practices in southeastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania, western West Virginia, eastern Kentucky, and similar areas throughout the nation.

THE COOPERATIVE studies will be conducted at the ARS North Appalachian Experimental Watershed, 10 miles northeast of Coshocton on Ohio 621. The 470 acres of cropland, 270 acres of permanent grassland, and 307 acres of woodland have been a USDA research facility since 1935.

A memorandum of understanding authorizing the cooperative research program was signed recently by Dr. Roy M. Kottman, OARDC director, and Earl R. Glover, regional deputy administrator, ARS, USDA, and approved by the OARDC Board of Control.

"This watershed research center is an ideal location for conducting intensive studies of runoff and particularly for measuring environmental pollutants from farming enterprises," according to Dr. Kottman. The center consists of some 30 watersheds ranging in size from one to 303 acres. USDA has hydrologic records going back more than 30 years on some of the watersheds.

"All of us in agriculture are interested in improving the quality of our environment," Dr. Kottman added. "If agriculture is contributing to pollution, we need to identify its causes and to develop and apply corrective measures."

Glover called the memo of understanding a "landmark agreement." He said, "It effects a significant new dimension in our cooperative ties with OARDC. It is unique and will be a fine example of joint State Experiment Station-ARS research in this region and the country as a whole."

ARS scientists have been conducting land and water use research at the center for several years. OARDC scientists have cooperated in several of the studies. Different farming practices have been studied to test new and better ways of farming the sloping lands characteristic of the area. All of the watersheds can be instrumented to obtain precipitation, runoff, and sediment data.

Objectives of the new cooperative program include measurement of the storage and movement of water, sediment, chemicals, and animal wastes within a watershed and evaluation of the quantity and quality of runoff and soil profile drainage to ground water. These data would quantitatively and qualitatively determine all water pollutants resulting from a beef cattle farm enterprise.

OARDC will provide beef cattle and will conduct cow-calf feedlot studies in concert with watershed research designed to determine related effects on water quality. Specific studies will include the effects of summer and winter pasturing of beef cattle on the quality of surface and ground water leaving agricultural watersheds, effects on water quality of modern crop cultural practices, and effects of barnlot runoff on downstream water quality.

ARS AND OARDC scientists will separate water and sediment in runoff samples and analyze for nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, chlorine, and pesticides in both the water and the sediment. In areas where animals are located, they will determine the biological oxygen demand, total volatile solids, and total organic content of the runoff samples.

ARS will continue its other watershed research activities and provide funds for maintenance of the present physical plant. OARDC will assume the responsibility for providing personnel to manage and carry out all field operations involving farming and livestock programs.

The research will establish water and chemical interrelationships resulting from various farming practices.

Farm Bureau official raps export proposal

COLUMBUS — C. William Swank, executive vice president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, Inc., has blasted as "irresponsible" U.S. Sen. Howard E. Metzenbaum's proposals to curtail American grain exports.

Swank said Metzenbaum's proposals to increase domestic grain supplies by cutting exports would lead to international trade deficits and, eventually, a shortage of food in the country — precisely what the senator seeks to eliminate.

Sen. Metzenbaum is advocating cheap food at the expense of the American farmer and public, he said. "If grain exports are curtailed, the result will be a less stable dollar which will hurt jobs and the country will again be saddled with an unfavorable balance of trade."

SWANK SAID agricultural products composed about 25 per cent of U.S. exports in 1973 and were the primary reason for America's favorable trade balance.

"If farm prices drop with farm production costs continuing to rise, the only alternative for the farmer is to stop farming," he said. "No one should be asked to produce at a loss."

Swank said many farmers now are losing money on hogs and cattle in their

Senate measure signing lauded by Farm Bureau

COLUMBUS — The executive vice president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation has praised the signing of Senate Bill No. 423 (State Issue No. 1) saying, "The new law means Ohio farmland will continue to produce food instead of acres of unplanned suburban concrete."

C. William Swank, attending the signing ceremony in Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan's office, said the new law insures that farmers won't be taxed off their lands by housing and industrial development. The law provides for taxation of farmland on the basis of its productivity for farming rather than its market value as real estate.

The law, while not a tax break for farmers, does keep farmland tax bills from ballooning as suburbs encroach on rural areas.

Swank praised Gilligan for strong leadership in passage of the law and he praised the strong bipartisan support shown the measure in both the Ohio House and Senate.

Among members of the Ohio legislature, Swank had particular praise for Senators William H. Mussey (R-Batavia), Theodore M. Gray (R-Columbus) and Douglas Applegate (D-Steubenville) and Representatives A.G. Lancione (D-Bellaire), John E. Johnson (D-Orville) and Charles F. Kurfess (R-Bowling Green).

"However, ultimately," Swank said, "we must thank the people of Ohio who approved State Issue One in the November election making possible the Constitutional basis for this law."

feedlots. If they are forced to reduce production because of curtailed exports the result will eventually be less food for the American public.

"It's misleading to expect cheap food when the price of almost everything else is rising," he said. Prices for fertilizer have doubled in the last year and fuel costs have risen 50 per cent."

Two of Sen. Metzenbaum's proposals are already being done Swank said. Metzenbaum called for a licensing procedure to control overseas shipments but the U.S. Department of Agriculture already requires that exports be reported. He also asked for a weekly accounting of export grain sales and foreign food shipping which is already being done.

Metzenbaum said more American wheat is being exported than is being kept in the United States but Swank said this has always been the case with the country's grain surplus. Two-thirds of the wheat has been exported for the last 20 years.

Farmers paying heavily for fertilizer supply

COLUMBUS — Two facts are prominent when discussing Ohio's nitrogen fertilizer situation. Farmers are paying up to $400 a ton this year for the same fertilizer they bought in 1973 for $75 to $100 a ton. They also need more fertilizer, especially nitrogen, this year than last due to increased acreage brought into production in 1974 after the USDA abandoned the set aside acreage program.

But the question of supply, if and when this nitrogen will be available, has not been answered.

GENE R. ABERCROMBIE, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, has predicted that supplies of nitrogen fertilizers may be 30 per cent less than demand in Ohio. This figure is a result of an ODA fertilizer survey as part of a report to be submitted to Ohio's Energy Task Force.

"Every farmer knows about this shortage possibility," he said. "If they can get necessary nitrogen for their corn, Ohio will have the predicted 3.8

million acre corn crop. But as planting starts, if supplies are unavailable, an increase in soybean acreage will be the only alternative."

"Supply shortages have been attributed to a myriad of causes. All of them together just compounded the problem," Abercrombie said. "Several Ohio nitrogen suppliers have gone out of business. At least two manufacturers have moved out of the state."

National Sins Day

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

At the initiation of Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, a theologically sharp Oregonian who is regarded a possible choice for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination, many Americans have set aside a day to "confess our national sins and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

They've scheduled observances on Tuesday, April 30, of a National Day of Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer, as urged in a resolution introduced by Hatfield and adopted by the U.S. Senate.

Participation has been supported by the U.S. Catholic bishops administrative board, by several Protestant and ecumenical organizations and by many community groups. At least seven governors—in Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, Louisiana, Georgia, Nebraska and Alabama—have issued proclamations for the observance.

Hatfield, 51, a biblically minded student of Abraham Lincoln and a critic of so-called "civil religion" that equates Americanism with God, says "we must turn in repentance from the sin that has scarred our national soul."

"Only a national confession of corporate guilt can save us from the worship of our own finite power ... (and) heal the wounds that presently afflict us."

A Baptist and two-time governor of his home state before being elected to the U.S. Senate in 1966, Hatfield is among few federal lawmakers (along with Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa) disposed to discuss issues in such explicitly religious terms.

Speaker at McNair

A guest speaker, the Rev. Hugh B. Evans, executive Presbyter of the Presbytery of Scioto Valley, will be featured at McNair Presbyterian Church this Sunday at the morning worship service.

Mr. Evans served as pastor of the Seventh Church, Cincinnati, from 1945 through 1968. He was then executive secretary of the General Assembly's Department of Ministerial Relations until 1973.

FOR BETTER WEED CONTROL ON VARIABLE SOILS

USE

LOROX + Lasso

Time was when soils varied so did your weed control. But no more. Now you can mix LOROX linuron weed killer and LASSO* together and get consistent, uniform weed control, even if soils vary 1% to 2% in organic matter.

You'll get better control of • barnyard-grass • crabgrass • foxtails • lambs-quarters • pigweed and • ragweed. And the cost is low, too.

For the best weed control at least cost in uniform fields of light-to-medium soil, use LOROX by itself.

With any chemical, follow labeling instructions and warnings carefully.

Farm population shift

About the time of World War I, America's farm population peaked at 32.5 million. Since then, for a variety of reasons, it has more or less steadily declined until in 1973 it stood at about 9,475,000.

One of those reasons is that fewer farmers have been able to raise more food on fewer acres. Another is the rise of corporate farming. A third is that for some 60 years there has been a heavy outflow of young people to the cities.

It is a matter of considerable significance that this outflow has been all but halted in recent times. Nationwide, there has been an average farm population loss of less than one per cent since 1970; in some areas the number of people on the farms is moving up.

One strong factor in this trend is rising food prices, which make farming more attractive. Whatever the reasons, this may be the start of a basic shift in American population movement.

A WORD EDGEWISE . . . by John P. Roche

Is our regime in crisis?

Sen. James Buckley, in calling for President Nixon's resignation, announced that the United States was suffering from a "crisis of the regime."

This is an interesting European formulation, doubtless borrowed from his brother Bill (whose talent for arcane phraseology is unmatched). It has a fine sonorous, dolorous sound, but what precisely does it mean? And, once that has been figured out, is it true?

As an introductory note, it might be pointed out that conservatives always have a tendency (in a paraphrase from Dr. Dooley) to confuse gunfire with people beating their rugs. The unruly masses are always just over the horizon, preparing to launch the Terror, when in fact they are joyously preparing to launch their boats.

Edmund Burke provided the model — which gives one an interesting insight into how well he knew his customers — when he required that his remains be put in an unmarked grave. This, he felt, would prevent British Jacobins from desecrating his corpse!

IN THE SAME FASHION, President Nixon's palace guard were, in 1969, convinced that the anti-war movement presented a threat to the stability of the Republic. Having lived with the militants' whooping for several years during my stint in the Alamo — the Johnson White House — I confess I found it annoying. It was like being in a steel drum with somebody beating the sides with a baseball bat.

But the notion that Abbie Hoffman and the rest of that cast of characters could overthrow the government of the United States was simply preposterous. Their real power lay in the fact that they elected Richard Nixon President of the United States! (I have been labeled a "conservative" for my attacks on the New Left — but what I actually held against the witless derisives was their capacity to guarantee defeat for liberal Democrats.)

Back to business: a "crisis of the regime" is a situation in which the very foundations, the often unarticulated premises of a society are endangered. The French have specialized in this art form: there is a significant chunk of the population which rejects the Republic. They last came out from under the rocks during the Vichy government, which among other things removed R.F. (French Republic) from its postage stamps in favor of "France."

If one visits churches in strong Republican areas of that country, he will read "Died for the Republic" over the endless list of World War I fatalities. In conservative areas the plaque will read "Died for France."

In our history we have had two crises of the regime. The first, between 1798 and 1800, featured an all-out Federalist effort, marshalled by Alexander Hamilton, to destroy the Jeffersonians. It was marked by a Sedition Act which was vigorously employed to suppress opposition papers, by changes in state electoral laws, by drumming up war with France as a pretext for creating a standing army, and other measures which led Vice President Jefferson and Mames Madison to believe American democracy was to be strangled in its cradle.

Fortunately, at the crucial moment, President John Adams refused to cooperate, and the Jeffersonians peacefully assumed power in 1801. Our second crisis of this order was, of course, the Civil War.

NOW ANYONE who wants to put Watergate in this category is simply out of his historical depth. Watergate is a "crisis of Administration." Whatever the President's pretensions, he can't turn around without being handed a summons.

The country is not rocked to its very foundations: most Americans assume, for openers, that most politicians are crooks, an unjust but mentally healthy axiom. The Boston bookies are laying odds that President Nixon will be out by June 1 — hardly an indication of existential despair. In short, Americans are not panic prone.

Indeed, if they thought about it, they would have a right to be proud if the way the antibodies in our political system have gathered to master the infection. In other words, while Watergate reveals our weakness in one respect, it demonstrates our strength in another.

Thus I feel free to advise Sen. Buckley, "Sleep peacefully, Jim. There is no guillotine, and you are not cast as Sidney Carton. The masses are making book on resignation, not sharpening their pikes."

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . by Marquis Childs

Watergate goes on

WASHINGTON — The massive process of the Watergate prosecution moves on with no end in sight. Important indictments are still to come involving the milk fund, ITT and illegal campaign contributions tied to ambassadorships and other anticipated rewards.

Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski is proceeding without fear of favor with the able legal staff largely inherited from Archibald Cox when he went with Attorney General Eliot Richardson in the infamous Saturday night massacre. The sequence of the trials extends farther into the future than Jaworski had contemplated since his goal is to finish the job as expeditiously as possible and return to his practice in Texas.

The special prosecutor has his own tape deadline with the White House. He set May 2 as the date for response by the President to his request for 46 tapes as well as documents and transcripts essential for the trials to come.

If the President and his lawyer James St. Clair refuse to comply or if they reply only in part at their own discretion, Jaworski will take the matter to the courts. In the showdown it is likely to go to the Supreme Court.

charges of perjury and obstruction of justice.

The 465 tapes subpoenaed by Jaworski cover 64 separate conversations between Nixon and members of his staff over the year ending June, 1973. Jaworski believes that every aspect of Watergate and the related scandals are discussed on these tapes.

At the direction of the special prosecutor's office the trial of the seven has been put over until September. This was done to be sure that the question of the subpoenas could be cleared through the courts before the trial starts. Further delays are almost certain to result from defense motions with the possibility that the defendants may ask to be tried separately.

The trial of the seven will take many weeks, if not months. On June 17 six defendants are to go on trial in Judge Gerhard A. Gesell's court for breaking into the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist. The principals are Ehrlichman and Colson, together with G. Gordon Liddy and three Cuban-Americans involved in the Watergate break-in. That trial is expected to last seven weeks.

THE LITIGATION clearly will go on well into the congressional campaign and perhaps beyond. But the system is working both in the prosecution and in the courts. That is the heartening aspect of this long drawn-out ordeal.

The trial of Dwight L. Chapin, the President's former appointments secretary, was a model of decorum. Convicted on two counts of lying to a federal grand jury, both Chapin and his lawyer thanked Judge Gesell for his conduct of the case. Gesell had thrown out one count of the four-count indictment and the jury found Chapin innocent on another count.

With diminishing returns as the trials are completed, the special prosecutor's office could become and adjunct of the Department of Justice. That is not likely to happen so long as William B. Saxbe is attorney general. His record of foot in mouth is unparalleled.

The wheels of the law turn relentlessly. The process, it is now clear, is irreversible.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

I am 19 years old and I, like many others my age, find it hard to make much money. When we purchase items that range in price from $5 to $350.00 or on up, we expect to be permitted to use them.

I, and many others like me, have run into a problem. We were arrested for unsafe bumper height.

I have approximately $400 in air shocks, rims, and tires. Now, that the city has decided they don't like the looks of our vehicles, they want to arrest us.

In cities and communities around us, there is no action taken. To mention a few, Jeffersonville, Springfield, South Charleston, Chillicothe, and Wilmington. Why should we be put out the expense and trouble trying to make our vehicles look half-way decent? What's fair for one is fair for all.

I haven't noticed anything in "Letters to the Editor" before now on this subject. I hope you find this subject of interest to you. I hope you will print it. It is of considerable concern to some of the people who care for decent looking vehicles.

St. Jude's in Memphis, Tenn., has effective treatment for leukemia and other catastrophic diseases that until recently were fatal. Memphis, Tenn., seems far removed from our community, but on the referral of your own family physician here in Washington C.H. your child can be helped. Once your doctor deems it necessary and advisable, he can make arrangements for you and your child to go to the institution.

St. Jude patients receive total medical care and treatment with NO charge; and lodging will even be provided for the parents. As nurses interested in good health for all, it seems especially gratifying to know that there is a hospital which cares especially for children.

Hopefully we won't ever need their services, but it certainly is comforting to know it is there if and when we ever do.

We do hope everyone will get involved and ride to help save the lives of children. The ride will be held on May 19 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, so as a healthy outing and for a worthy cause we, as believers in the cause, hope this group will receive a great deal of support.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

How to explain why religion isn't free

DEAR ABBY: As a newly ordained minister I frequently find myself in the uncomfortable position of having to explain why the church is always asking for money.

One of my parishioners told me that some years back you had a letter in your column which posed the same question, and your answer was the best.

Can you please try to locate that letter, and print it again? Gratefully,
APREACHER

DEAR PREACHER: I've found it. And here it is:

DEAR ABBY: We are not overly religious people, but we do like to go to church once in a while. It seems to me that every time we turn around we are getting hit for money. I thought religion was free. I realize that churches have to have money but I think it is getting to be a racket. Just what do churches do with all their money?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Even priests ministers, and rabbis must eat. And since they work full time at their tasks, the churches must support them. Staff, professional choir members and musicians also must be paid. Buildings must be maintained, heated, lighted and beautified. (And of course, first they must be built.) Custodial staff must eat and feed their families. Most churches engage in philanthropic work (aid to needy, missions, and education); hence, they have their financial obligations. Even orchids, contrary to folklore, do not live on air. Churches can't live on air, either. Religion, like water, may be free, but when they pipe it to you, you've got to pay for the piping. And the piper!

DEAR ABBY: Before a trip last year I bought my husband a bikini swim suit. He wore it to the beach and you should have seen the heads turn. He has a great physique and looked gorgeous.

My problem is, he won't wear it again. He says men shouldn't wear anything so revealing in public. When I remind him that he wore it on our vacation and attracted a lot of attention, he says: "They were laughing at me. That's why I'm not wearing it again."

Abby, we've finally liberated women so they can wear next to nothing and get away with it. Why not men?

Maybe if you gave your approval he'd wear that sexy looking bikini again.

BETTY

DEAR BETTY: Get off his gorgeous back. Women who reveal too much lose much of their appeal. And that goes double for men.

DEAR ABBY: My grandson a high school senior, and I have been going round and round on this one:

I sent his sister, a college student, a birthday card by mail. He said he intended to give her his card when we met to take her out to dinner on her day.

My opinion was that he was skirting the outer edges of propriety in handing his sister a birthday card. He said it didn't make any difference and suggested I write to Dear Abby for her opinion.

DEAR GRAMP: I'm with your grandson. It doesn't matter if a congratulatory message is delivered by mail, the king's messenger or in person. It's being remembered that counts.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, April 27, the 117th day of 1974. There are 248 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1941 Athens fell to German invaders in World War II after 180 days of resistance by Greek defenders.

On this date in 1521, the Portuguese navigator, Ferdinand Magellan, was killed by natives in the Philippines.

In 1791, the inventor of the telegraph, Samuel Morse, was born in Charlestown, Mass.

In 1822, the 18th American president, Ulysses S. Grant, was born in Point Pleasant, Ohio.

In 1906, the United States Steel Corp. broke ground along Lake Michigan for construction of a new city — Gary, Ind.

In 1945, in World War II, American and Soviet troops met at the Elbe River, cutting Germany in two.

Ten years ago ... France named its first ambassador to Communist China after establishing diplomatic relations with the Peking government.

Five years ago ... Charles de Gaulle stepped down as President of France after losing a referendum on government reorganization.

One year ago ... L. Patrick Gray resigned as acting director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Today's birthdays: President Horace Stoneham of the San Francisco Giants baseball team is 71 years old.

Thought for today: What is food to one man is bitter poison to others — Lucretius, Roman poet, about 96 to 55 B.C.

In 1845, Congress passed a law setting the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November as presidential election day. "Harvesting is over then and winter has not yet made the roads impassable," said Ohio Representative Alexander Duncan in writing the law.

Ceramic classes changed for county fair

There have been some changes for ceramic classes for the Fayette County Fair this year. There are 15 classes, and one may enter 10 classes and pay 10 cents per class for the additional five. Also for the first time, there will be a "Sweepstake Award." The competition is open to anyone in Fayette County with the purchase of an exhibitors ticket which may be obtained at the secretary's office July 12-13 between the hours of 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Articles are to be brought to the Fairgrounds on July 20 between 1 and 5 p.m.

For the first time, a decoupage class is offered on any surface. This is an old art that has been revised.

The Ceramics Classes are: Hand formed; stain finish, matte or satin finish; glazed finish; overglazed finish; underglazed finish; decorated figurine; porcelain piece; novelty item; Christmas piece; any seasonal item (not Christmas); dry wipe; crystals; lamp (without shade); and centerpiece.

They will be judged at 12:30 p.m. on Monday, July 22, by Mrs. Catherine Hines of Springfield. Following the judging, Mrs. Hines will give a ceramic demonstration from 2 until 4 p.m. J.W. Sears is the director in charge.

Class attendance is discussed

The Loyal Disciples Class of the South Side Church of Christ met in Fellowship Hall with 15 members and one guest present.

Charles Starkey, class president, conducted the meeting, which was opened by prayer by Dwight Foy.

Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. Nelson Secrets made reports when class attendance and other projects were discussed.

"Memories" was the topic of devotions presented by Mr. Foy. The closing prayer was by Traverse Hollingsworth. Hostesses were Mrs. Secrets, Mrs. Howard Bowdle, and Mrs. Opal Todd.

The next meeting will be held in Wilmington May 30.

"MAYBE WE'RE RAGGED AND FUNNY" — but Ted Merritt and Mrs. Margaret Willis were chosen a king and a queen in their own right; king and queen of the Hobo-March-April-Birthday party the Senior Citizens of Fayette County had Friday afternoon at Senior Citizens Center. Almost everyone dressed for the not-so-formal occasion.

Town and Country Garden Club topic is 'Growing Roses'

Members of the Town and Country Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Mildred Henkelman. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Lee Cleland who read a poem entitled, "Hope". Reports were given by Mrs. Alvin Armintrout and Mrs. Dwight Duff and roll call was answered with spring gardening hints.

A report on the recent meeting at which Mr. James Caldwell, Extension Horticulturist from Ohio State University was the speaker, was given by Mrs. Robert Browning and Mrs. Charles Duff.

Mrs. Cleland announced the Pickett Dogwood Festival is being held in Pike County on April 27 and 28 and urged the members to attend if possible.

The Redbud trees, being sold by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs in recognition of Arbor Day, were distributed to the members.

Plans were made for a tour to Lebanon on June 12 for a luncheon at the Golden Lamb and stops at historical points of interest.

Mrs. Cleland introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mr. Howard Knutson of Bellbrook, whose topic was "Growing Roses". Mr. Knutson is president of the Miami Valley Rose Society and a member of many county and regional rose societies. He spoke on four types of roses, hybrid T, grandiflora, miniature and floribunda, and told which types adapt best to arranging and various uses. He pointed out that the more root growth, the better and nothing is as important to successful rose growing as good root structure. He stated that thorough watering, either by adequate rainfall or a regular watering program by the gardener, is essential. Roses with a high petal count open more slowly and remain in good condition for a longer period of time than those with a lower petal count.

He emphasized that preventive measures for insects and diseases are very important and much better than trying to cure a disease that has already set in. He discussed pruning of roses, methods to induce early blooming, best planting times, best roses for growing in the area and gave the members many helpful tips on gardening. Following his talk, he answered many questions from those present.

At the conclusion of the evening, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dan Thompson to the members and two guests, Mrs. Laura Hughes and Mrs. Forrest Stephenson.

The next meeting will be May 22 at the home of Mrs. Charles Herman.

Mrs. Morrow circle hostess

Mrs. Max Morrow was hostess to members of the Mary Ruth Circle of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church. Mrs. Lavon Dennewitz, circle leader, opened the meeting by reading "Beyond Measure."

Roll call was answered by 10 members and one guest. Business included a request from Rev. Eugene Griffith for volunteers for a visitation program and for persons to write to a child in Hong Kong, sponsored by the church. Announcement was made of a 'family night' May 19, and of the mother-daughter banquet.

Mrs. Nathan Ervin presented the program on "Mother's Day" assisted by Mrs. Margaret Morrow. Mrs. Ervin read "Reflections," "A Tribute to Mother" and a prayer for Ideals magazine. Mrs. Morrow read "She Shall Be Praised."

Mrs. Dennewitz closed the meeting with an article entitled "A Lovely Day." Mrs. Roy Booco will be hostess for the next meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Minnie Linthicum, a guest, and Mrs. Anna Toliver, Mrs. Dennewitz, Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Booco, Mrs. Rowena Wright, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. George Reedy, Mrs. Myrtle Williams and Mrs. Ervin by Mrs. Morrow, the hostess.

Panthers lose to Tanks on one-hitter

AMIDST A HEAVY CLOUD OF DUST — Unioto's Danny Russell applies the tag to the Panthers' Phil Skinner, who

Record-Herald Sports Editor

Fayette County sports enthusiasts will long remember the two visits paid to them by Unioto's baseball team this week.

Arriving in Washington Court House Wednesday afternoon, the Shermans blanked the Blue Lions 6-0 on junior Jeff Throckmorton's no-hitter. Returning to Fayette County Friday evening, the Class A Shermans silenced Miami Trace 7-0 on a one-hitter by sophomore Danny Russell.

With the victory over the Panthers, the Tanks have widened their lead over the larger schools in the South Central Ohio League. The Shermans are now 7-1 in the SCOL and 14-1 for the season. The Panthers are in second place with a 5-3 SCOL record and 5-7 overall.

After a rough first inning, Russell only allowed four runners to reach base the rest of the afternoon. Two of the runners were hit by a pitch, one was walked and the other was safe on an error. For the afternoon, Russell wound up with 12 strikeouts and two walks.

If the Panthers had reached Russell for a run in the bottom of the first inning, the game might have taken a different perspective. With one out Phil Skinner dropped an opposite field single into right field. Skinner stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. Greg Cobb drew a walk, but the fourth ball was wild and Skinner tried to score. However, Sherman catcher Steve Chester retrieved the ball in time and fired it to Russell for the out. Russell then settled down and cut down

Randy Reiber on strikes for the final out.

For the first three innings, Reiber, who was the Panthers' pitcher, threw nothing but smoke past the Shermans. However, as the game wore on, Reiber seemed to have lost some of the steam on his fast ball and the Tanks were knocking the balls out of the infield just as fast as they came to the plate.

Until the sixth frame, the Panthers were only down 1-0. Unioto's two run outburst in the sixth and four runs in the seventh spelled the doom of Reiber and his teammates. After striking out five batters in the first three innings, Reiber finished the game with seven strike outs and three walks.

Unioto scored its first run in the fourth inning on heads-up baserunning by shortstop B.J. Dailey. Dailey led off with a single to right field and advanced from first to third on a sacrifice bunt by senior Ron Rutherford. Dailey came across the plate when Chester grounded out.

Two walks and two wild pitches helped account for the Shermans' four tallies in the final frame. The big blow was Johnson's double, which scored two runs.

Hoping to get back onto the winning track, Miami Trace may be forced to go into today's doubleheader at Westfall without the services of junior catcher Jay Mossbarger. In the final inning of Friday's game, Mossbarger was hit in the elbow by one of Russell's pitches. He was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Smith's home run defeats Blue Lions

The Blue Lion baseball team from Washington C.H. sank even lower into the depths of the South Central Ohio League race when they lost their fourth consecutive game and their fifth loss in the last six tries. Madison Plains came up with two runs in the seventh inning to trip the Lions 6-4.

Washington was protecting a 4-4 tie going into the seventh but all hopes went out the window when catcher Steve Smith stepped up and clouted a tie-breaking home run that proved to be the winning blow.

Madison plains used two pitchers in the duel, Bill Flanagan, who pitched five innings, giving up eight hits and walked two; and John Green, who pitched the final two innings, giving up three hits, striking out three and walking just one in picking up the win.

The Blue Lions used a trio of pitchers. Craig Stabelton, coming off back injury, hurled four innings, giving up four innings, giving up four hits and three runs, while striking out five and walking just two. Greg McCune pitched the fifth and sixth innings, allowing just one run on one hit, while striking out two and issuing one base on balls.

Mark Johnson allowed the two runs in the seventh.

The Eagles started fast as they grabbed an early 2-0 lead in the first on a triple by Rick Givens, a double by Tom Rodgers and singles by Jim Sullivan and Ken Forest. They added one more in the second on a base on balls and two costly errors. They scrapped for one more in the sixth on a walk, fielders' choice, stolen base and a single by Vic Tope. Their final runs came on the homer by Smith, a triple by Rodgers and a single by Dave Joslin.

The Lions scored once in the second, third, fourth and sixth for their four tallies. Back-to-back doubles by Larry Dumford and David Rittenhouse got one in the second. Singles by Mark Johnson and Alan Coppock, plus a costly balk by Flanagan, accounted for the third inning score. Singles by Rittenhouse, David Stackhouse and pinch-hitter Herb Bonner got one in the fourth. The last run came on a basis of a single by Dumford, Rittenhouse's second double and a run scoring ground out by Jeff Wallace.

The loss sends the Lions overall mark on the season to 3-8 while their SCOL card suffers in the danger zone at 2-5.

Borbon shuts door on Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The manager of the St. Louis Cardinals insists Pedro Borbon pitches every day for the Cincinnati Reds.

"I think he even goes back to his hotel room and throws the ball off the wall," Red Schoendienst complained Friday night after Borbon stopped the Cards 4-3 in relief.

"I'll tell you one thing," the 51-year-old Schoendienst said. "If he ever gets hurt, they're going to go down the drain."

Schoendienst's frustration was to be expected after the Cards outlit the Reds 11-8 but left 12 runners stranded in a futile try to catch up.

They dispatched Reds starter Don Gullett, 2-1, via Reggie Smith's home run, a 395-foot clout to left-center in the fifth inning.

And an inning later Clay Carroll was on the ropes as St. Louis closed to its final margin.

But in the seventh, after Carroll and Tom Hall were both reached for singles to pose another threat, in strode the purposeful Borbon to slam the door.

He induced pinch-hitter Jim Hickman to hit into an inning-ending forceout and, except for Ted Simmons' hot liner in the ninth, was untouchable.

Among his victims were Lou Brock, who fanned on a sinker in the eighth, and Smith, who was caught looking at a called third strike the same inning.

"The pitch was a slider," the 27-year-old Borbon said in reference to Smith, who is hitting .376. "Left-handers don't look for a slider," he noted. They look for a fast ball."

"I'm kind of glad I didn't have all my power on the bat," said Simmons, who was thrown out after his shot hit Borbon on the pitching wrist and left a swelling.

"If it'd been smoking more and been a little higher, it would have either gone through or it would have killed him and I'd hate to have that on my mind."

All the Reds' noise came in the early innings, including back-to-back doubles by Andy Kosco and Gullett following a second-inning walk.

After the Cards closed to 2-1, Dave Concepcion doubled home Joe Morgan in the fifth and Cincinnati capped its scoring off John Curtis, 1-3, on George Foster's double, a hit batsman, a walk and a double play in the sixth.

The relief of Borbon, who earned his third save, was of particular pride to

White Sox hand Lolich 8-2 pounding

By The Associated Press

Mickey Lolich had a good fast ball and a good slider Friday night ... plus a good licking.

"My trouble? I couldn't get anybody out," the Detroit Tigers' ace left-hander said after absorbing an 8-2 pounding at the hands and bats of the Chicago White Sox.

The 33-year-old southpaw who once won 25 games shows an 0-4 record this season with a whopping 5.82 earned run average.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Baltimore Orioles edged the Oakland A's 6-5 in 15 innings, the New York Yankees nipped the Texas Rangers 4-3, the Cleveland Indians beat the California Angels 4-3, the Kansas City Royals downed the Boston Red Sox 4-2 and the Milwaukee Brewers shaded the Minnesota Twins 4-3.

Designated hitter Brian Downing's three-run homer in the fifth inning lowered the boom on Lolich. Dick Allen opened the fifth with a double and scored on Ron Santo's second double of the game. Ken Henderson was given an intentional walk before Downing smacked his homer to give Chicago a 7-1 cushion.

Orioles 6, A's 5

Don Baylor reached on a three-base error by Oakland center fielder Bill

Reds Manager Sparky Anderson, who called the club's pitching underrated.

"He doesn't try to fool anybody," Anderson said of the 27-year-old Borbon. "He just runs the ball up there and says 'here, hit me.'"

White Sox hand Lolich 8-2 pounding

North in the 15th inning and scored on Andy Etchebarren's sacrifice fly. Reggie Jackson hit his second home run of the game in the 12th to give the A's a 5-4 lead but the Orioles, who wiped out a 4-1 deficit with three runs in the eighth, tied it on Elrod Hendricks' single, a walk and Boog Powell's single.

Yankees 4, Rangers 3
Thurman Munson reached on an error by third baseman Lenny Randle to open the seventh inning and eventually scored the winning run on Bobby Murcer's grounder, beating shortstop Toby Harrah's throw to the plate.

Indians 4, Angels 3
Chris Chambliss' three-run double capped a four-run seventh-inning Cleveland uprising against Nolan Ryan. Chambliss' hit kayoed Ryan, who had taken a two-hit, 3-0 lead into the seventh.

Royals 4, Red Sox 2
Cookie Rojas knocked in one run with a single and another scored on his double play grounder while Steve Busby went the route for Kansas City, scattering six hits.

Brewers 4, Twins 3
Darrell Porter's two-run triple in the eighth gave the Brewers a 4-0 lead, just enough to withstand a three-run rally by the Twins in their half of the inning.

Church construction to begin

The First Church of God, 610 Harrison St., has reached the final stages of planning their new sanctuary, and construction of the building is about to begin.

Within the next two weeks, construction of the new $70,000 will begin just southeast of the Fellowship Hall. The sanctuary will have a seating capacity of approximately 250. It will contain a baptistry and choir loft.

The present sanctuary, built over 50 years ago, is scheduled for demolition after the new one is completed.

Warm, sunny weather was forecast to continue across the state today and Sunday, although showers may return to the state Sunday night and Monday.

Clear skies and light winds prevailed over Ohio last night, allowing temperatures to drop to the 40s or low 50s. Youngstown was the coolest spot with a 40-degree reading shortly before daybreak.

Sunshine and southerly winds were expected to push readings into the 70s and 80s today. Highs tonight should be in the mid 50s under partly-cloudy skies.

The southerly winds are associated with a high centered this morning along the Atlantic Coast. The system is moving slowly eastward.

Following it is a low, located early today over the Northern Plains. The low should move into the state as the weekend ends, bringing with it the showers.

A chance of showers Monday through Wednesday. Highs in the 60s and 70s. Lows in the upper 40s and the 50s.

New center gets funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The South Central Regional Juvenile Detention Center, which will serve six Ohio counties, received an additional $60,000 Friday from the Ohio Criminal Justice Supervisory Commission.

The center, scheduled for completion in July, 1975, will house delinquent juveniles who otherwise would be detained in county jails. It will serve Fayette, Jackson, Pickaway, Pike, Ross and Vinton counties.

The $60,000, transferred from unused funds, supplements $172,840 already approved by the state.

The commission also approved transfer of $24,706 for a criminal justice information system in Wood County.

The group granted the Civil Rights Compliance Committee authority to collect data to determine if Ohio recipients of federal criminal justice funds are complying with non-discrimination regulations.

System developed for appeal on fuel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has developed a system to permit persons to appeal when they are denied fuel.

Edmund C. Turk, commissioner chairman, said anyone denied application for additional fuel can file a letter of objection with the Fuel Allocation Center for review.

Sheep and lamb sale

A total of 405 head of sheep and lambs were sold at auction Friday at Producers Livestock Association.

The market was 75 cents higher than two weeks ago and slaughter sheep were $6 lower than prices realized two weeks ago.

Prices were 188 choice lambs, $42-$42.90; 41 good lambs, $39-$40.90; 22 feeder lambs, $35-down, and 154 slaughter sheep, $13.75-down.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SUNDAY, APRIL 28

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Some complexities indicated. In all situations, be sure you have the facts before making decisions. Travel and outdoor interests favored.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Good will built up in the past will prove an invaluable asset now. You gain added status and importance in several areas.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

You may have to revise some plans, change tactics, discard certain ideas but, in the final analysis, what you do well now will produce substantial dividends later.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Better-than-ordinary advantages indicated. But, in all things, look below the surface. Don't be taken in by superficialities.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

The use of an old strategy or piece of advice may be your best stand-by now. Look out for things "offbeat" or out-of-context, however. They can mislead.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Don't mix business with pleasure and don't press issues. For the moment, it will be better to let things take their course.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Some unusual developments in the making will affect you pleasantly. Especially favored now: travel, friendships, romance.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

If you have a problem to solve, wait until early afternoon when influences will be better than in the a.m. Otherwise, you may have to revise your ideas.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Certain matters in which you are interested need an extra push now. Get to them immediately. And, in all, stress forthright, accuracy, tact.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Avoid activities, ideas or people who are not worthwhile. Don't let curiosity overcome your innate good judgment.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You may have difficulty in persuading, gaining your point but, if you know you are on the right track, keep going — even if you understand the reasons for opposition for certain angles.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Consider all propositions carefully, to determine whether they are really worthwhile — and advisable at this time. In any case, don't be guided by your emotions.

YOU BORN TODAY are one of those rare persons who combine idealism and creativity with realistic know-how, and your successes seem to know no end. Extremely versatile, many Taureans often engage in two occupations at once — or several in sequence — and succeed in all. There are many fields in which you could reach the top, but you probably would excel most at painting, interior decorating, horticulture, as an educator or in the medical field. On the minus side, you are inclined to try and dominate others; are also inclined toward arrogance and self-will. Try to curb these traits for they could alienate persons in a position to help you.

MONDAY, APRIL 29

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Branch out to some extent. Realize your limitations, however, so you won't overreach your mark. Some complexities, otherwise.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Stress your independence of thought. Don't let associates talk you out of your ideas — even though they may be a bit on the unconventional side.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Certain situations in your work area now further your interests. An excellent day for handling matters of a confidential nature.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

If you have left nothing to chance, you should now be able to launch the first stages of a new undertaking, meanwhile giving thought to your next moves.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Avoid emotionalism. It could dim your vision, blind you to opportunities, of which there are many now. Also, avoid extremes and exaggeration.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Stellar influences excellent for constructive action. If judicious plans have already been made, carry them out smartly; make some, if you note a stalemate to progress.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Planetary influences splendid! If you

Nab suspect in death of officer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— More than 200 policemen and FBI agents took part in an intensive manhunt Friday after a Cleveland policeman was killed by a shotgun blast while looking for a sniper who was reported shooting at cars.

Seven hours after Patrolman William Shapiro was killed by a shotgun blast in the neck, police said a 21-year-old man answering the description of the man they sought was arrested behind a home in suburban Cleveland Heights.

The manhunt covered a wide area of Cleveland's East Side and a fashionable section of Cleveland Heights.

Police said the man arrested about a mile from where Shapiro was killed answered the description and was wet from the neck down.

He was being questioned at Central Police Station.

Police said Shapiro and three other officers had responded to a report that someone was firing at cars near the Baldwin Reservoir on Fairhill Road, which leads into the Shaker Lakes area.

They said Shapiro and the others spread out and were poking through underbrush in a ravine when Shapiro apparently came on the sniper and was shot from point-blank range.

Friday was his 36th birthday.

After the shooting, heavily armed police swarmed into the ravine. They tossed tear gas grenades into caves and depressions and searched a culvert which carries the waters of Doan Creek from the area.

Police said a woman reported seeing a man throw down a gun and a jacket and disappear into the ravine near the culvert.

The searchers said they were forced to leave the culvert near the University Circle area because the water was too deep.

Meanwhile, police blocked traffic on Fairhill, rerouting cars to other streets and causing huge traffic jams during evening rush hour.

Adding to the confusion, a policeman at the University Circle rapid transit station accidentally shot himself in the leg, police said.

Dozens of policemen swarmed into the station, which was filled with pupils from a nearby high school, and shouted to the youngsters to get down to avoid being shot.

At one point, thinking the man may have reached a rapid transit train, police stopped the train and searched it.

Police said they found a shotgun in the ravine and an Army field jacket. The weapon was being checked for fingerprints.

Weed makes plea to kidnap group

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Steven Weed has urged the Symbionese Liberation Army to free newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst and not throw away $4 million set aside for her safe release.

Weed said Friday night he was working on a plan involving the money, which has been put in escrow by the Hearst Corp. The firm offered $4 million if Miss Hearst was safely released to her parents by May 3.

"One of the things I have been doing in the last eight days is to try to get together a specific proposal for this $4 million, to throw this thing out and just let everyone understand what the SLA is throwing away in return for Patty," he said in an interview with KGO-TV.

Variety is called the spice of life, and this hand sure produced it Tuesday night. Final bids on the hand were seven no trump, six hearts, four hearts, and three no trump. And for added interest seven no trump went down four, four hearts went down one, three no trump made five, and six hearts made six.

Dr. Kenneth Burris and J.C. Wright reached the "slam" in hearts by the following bidding:

Replacing Eye Fluid

Blindness due to hemorrhages in the vitreous fluid of the eye now seems to be curable.

A new operation now makes it possible to remove the cloudy fluid of the eye, clean it, and replace it in the eye.

The clear vitreous fluid once again allows light to penetrate it and return vision.

Dr. Nicholas Douvas, of Port Huron, Mich., believes that in carefully selected cases the results are extremely good. A number of other doctors all over the country are trying some modification of this simple operation. The enthusiasm for the results that have been obtained to date seems to be mounting as new cases are reported.

Artificial hips have been manufactured of metal, plastics and a variety of synthetic materials.

Hip replacements, once believed to be in the realm of science fiction, are now a practical reality.

Recently, a new one-piece artificial hip has been developed in Russia. It is called the sivash hip.

Those who are using it in Russia believe that the new hip has many advantages and will avoid some of the post-operative complications of hip replacement.

Orthopedic surgeons in America are carefully evaluating this new prosthetic appliance first used by Dr. Constantin Sivash in Moscow eight years ago.

Even though it has not yet been universally accepted by all doctors everywhere, it has opened interesting avenues for further study.

Another orthopedic innovation is being tried for the repair of badly dislocated shoulders.

A Dacron loop is being substituted for bone grafts and metallic screws. The advantage of this method is that further surgery to remove the hardware may no longer be necessary.

Dr. William E. Harrison and Dr. Jerry Sisler, of the St. Johns Hospital in Tulsa, Okla., devised this method. The great advantage is that the patient can begin to function more rapidly, without long periods of enforced disability.

Marry on!

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Registrar Aureliu Milea of Bucharest's Sector I has married 43,000 couples — averaging six a day — from 1952 to 1973. Milea says he is just warming up and his goal is 100,000.

In 1972, more than 33 million persons visited Japan's ancient capital, Kyoto, 3 million more than in 1971.

BUZZ'N DUZZ'N 4-H

"Do You Know What to do in Case of a Tornado?" and "So You Know the Importance of Proper Posture, Exercise and Rest?" were topics presented in reports given by safety leader Susan Humphreys, and health leader Diane Davis at the recent meeting of the Buzz'n Duzz'n 4-H Club, held in Jasper School.

Diane led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledges. Roll was answered by naming a favorite fruit.

Julie Persinger gave the secretary's report and announced that club dues of $1.00 are due soon as possible.

Members were also reminded of the Spring Clothing Training meeting for April 26 and of the club's tour of Craig's Fabric Department May 1. The girls' mothers are urged to attend both of these.

The group voted to buy a gift for Miss Butcher of Craig's Store in appreciation for conducting the tour.

A demonstration of "How to put in a Hem" was made by Diane Davis.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 15 at Jasper School when Susan Humphreys will give a demonstration and Cindy and Diane Davis will be in charge of refreshments.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Susan Kile. The girls then played softball.

YATESVILLE PRODUCERS

The members of the Yatesville Producers 4-H Club enjoyed a potluck supper at the April 23 meeting. Bret Taylor called the meeting to order and Doug Welsh called the roll when members answered by introducing their parents and other guests.

Minutes were read and approved. Lisa Cook gave the treasurer's report and Paul Welsh gave a report of the Easter egg hunt. Leah Welsh gave out project books, and Paula Welsh reported on tours.

Sheila Gordon of South Africa was introduced by Bret Taylor. She showed slides of her native country and a question and answer period followed.

Bret reminded all that market lambs and pigs had to be on feed by May 10. There will be a lamb sale Saturday evening at the Fairground.

The meeting was adjourned.

WAYNE PROGRESSIVE FARMERS 4-H

A letter from the American Heart Association was read by David Louis, thanking the Wayne Progressive Farmers 4-H club for collecting and donating to the heart fund.

President Julie Fettes called the meeting to order and asked John Shepard to lead us in the 4-H Pledge and the Pledge of Allegiance.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Tammy Walters and Jeff Wilt. Roll call was answered by each member telling if they had been to the dentist in the last six months. The second amendment to the constitution was read by Julie Fettes.

It was announced that the hog and lamb clinic was Tuesday. The club discussed the coming lamb and hog sale. They will be April 27 and April 29.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. Robert Schwartz, who discussed cattle, hog and sheep diseases. He was introduced by Marilyn Seifried.

The swine members broke up into their group and the project books were given out.

Louie Null and Julie Fettes will serve refreshments at the next meeting.

Jim Hixon, Junior Safety Boy, gave a report on traffic safety.

Refreshments were served by Marilyn Seifried. Advisers are Jerry Hoppes, David Ogan, David Weade and Nanci Woods.

ROLLING STITCHERS 4-H

Rolling Stitchers 4-H Club had its second meeting on Tuesday and Tia Smith called it to order. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Helen Miramontez. The 4-H Pledge was led by Judith Smith and we discussed having a wiener roast soon.

Helen Miramontez gave a safety report on "A Diver and his Responsibility," and a health report on "The Nine Systems of the Body."

The next meeting will be April 30 when demonstrations will be made by Cindy Sams.

Miss Agnes R. Wilhelm

Funeral services for Miss Agnes Rose Wilhelm, 80, formerly of 179 North Ogden Ave., Columbus, will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in St. Aloysius Church. Miss Wilhelm, a retired Columbus teacher, died Thursday in Scioto Crest Convalescent Center. She retired in 1960 after teaching 45 years in Ohio, 40 years of which was in the Columbus schools. She was a member of Pi Lambda Theta, Paloma Club, Quarter Century Club, National Retired Teachers Association, Ohio Retired Teachers Association, Alumni Club of Ohio State University, Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, Catholic Women's League, St. Aloysius Women's Guild, and St. Joseph's Guild. Surviving are a brother, Raymond Wilhelm, Washington C.H.; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Schmelzer of Richmond, Mrs. Clara Frazer and Major Helen Wilhelm, both of Columbus; 11 nieces and two nephews. Friends may call at the Schoedinger Hilltop Chapel, 3030 W. Broad St., from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Burial will be in St. Joseph Cemetery. Rosary services will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Rev. Luther Bucholtz

ST. PARIS — The Rev. Luther Bucholtz, 53, of 237 Lafayette St., pastor of First Lutheran Church, died at 7 p.m. Friday in Licking Memorial Hospital, Newark. He was a brother of Mrs. Howard (Mary) Foster of Bloomington. The Richeson-Wickham and Atkins Funeral Home are in charge of arrangements which will be announced later.

DR. CLARENCE FORD — Services for Dr. Clarence Ford, 82, formerly a dentist in Washington C.H., were held at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here, with the Rev. Allen Puffenberger officiating. Dr. Ford, who retired in 1962, died Wednesday. Pallbearers for the burial in Milledgeville-Plymouth Cemetery were Harley Mongold Jr., Earl Green, Larry and Russell Garringer, Harold Anderson and Bill Shepard.

MRS. ANNA ATER — Services for Mrs. Anna Ater, 70, of 905 Ely St., were held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here, with the Rev. Robert Kline officiating. Mrs. Ater, the widow of Carroll Ater, died Wednesday. Pallbearers for the burial in Washington Cemetery were Homer, Larry, Mark, Loren and John Smith, Mike Trenner and Lee Cline.

GM reports large drop in earnings

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors blames inflation and a slump in car sales in the wake of the energy crisis for the automaker's worst first-quarter earnings performance since before the Korean Conflict. The worldwide auto giant said Friday its January-March profits totaled $120 million, an 85 per cent drop from the same period in 1973. Plagued by a sales slump since December, GM reported revenues were down 27 per cent to $6.94 billion. Sales at GM, which is dependent on large car lines, were off 46 per cent while U.S. auto sales averaged a 27 per cent decline during the period. GM's per share earnings limped in at 41 cents, worst performance since 1948. But the company's top two executives forecast the firm would make a substantial comeback in the not-to-distant future. "As the economy strengthens in the months ahead and consumer confidence returns so will car buyers," said Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg and President Edward N. Cole. "Welcome strengthening of the market came too late to improve first quarter results." GM's quarterly earnings represented the second consecutive drop from year-earlier levels, coming after the firm posted record sales and profits for the first nine months of 1973.

Jasper PTO plans projects, events

MILLEDGEVILLE — Financial matters were considered at a meeting of the Jasper Parent-Teacher Organization held at Milledgeville School this week. The treasurer's report, showing $1,100 in available funds, was approved along with a bill for work recently completed at the school. Estimates for providing the first and second grade rooms with ceiling tile were received. They ranged around $500 per room, and it was noted that the school board had allocated $250 toward the project. Other possible programs were discussed, but the membership voted to continue to pursue the ceiling project. A committee was appointed to gather more information and to initiate action. It was suggested that the PTO try to arrange for a trip to the Columbus Zoo for the children. If this cannot be worked out, the organization will sponsor a picnic for Milledgeville students. The committee which was in charge of the recognition and awards banquet at school was acknowledged for its efforts. The program was presented by the kindergarten class under the direction of the teacher, Miss Penny Johnson, and the music instructor, Mrs. Lee Marshall. The kindergarten was also awarded "Benzo the Bengal" for having the greatest number of parents in attendance. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gary Herdman, Mrs. Joanne Smith and Mrs. Marie Stires.

Governors plan trip to China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican and three Democratic governors are going to get a look at mainland China next month. The White House announced on Friday the six governors will make a 10-day visit to China in mid-May as part of "an on-going program of people-to-people exchanges."

The Republicans are Daniel J. Evans of Washington, Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia and Robert D. Ray of Iowa. The Democrats are Calvin Rampton of Utah, Marvin Mandel of Maryland and Philip W. Noel of Rhode Island.

4 arrested in vendor thefts

Four persons were apprehended by Sheriff's Deputy Charles W. Wise at 4:05 a.m. Saturday in connection with an incident of tampering with a coin-operated vending machine. Deputy Wise was on routine patrol when he pulled into the Sunoco service station, Ohio Rt. 38 and 171, and saw four people scramble into a Volkswagen and start to drive off. He noticed the door to the pop vending machine hanging open and then cut in front of the car, stopping it. The four: Roland D. Rinehart, 19, Sabina; Michael Lee Yankey, 18, New Vienna, a 17 year-old girl from New Vienna and a 17-year-old boy from Sabina were taken into custody.

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation, London, lifted fingerprints from the pop machine which had been pried open with a tire iron and helped investigate a possible connection between the four arrested persons and another vending machine rifling at the Ohio Rt. 56 and 171 service station and possibly others in Franklin County.

THE TWO JUVENILES were brought to the Fayette County Juvenile Detention Center and Rinehart and Yankey were incarcerated in the county jail. An 8 a.m. detention hearing was held for the juveniles and Judge Rollo Marchant ruled they could be released to their parents after the Fayette County Sheriff's Department had finished interrogation. The Ohio Revised Code states a first offense of tampering with a vending machine is a misdemeanor, but any theft offense in the past brings it to a felony. Past records of the suspects are being investigated for this reason.

Charges of tampering with a coin-operated machine and criminal trespass are expected to be filed against the four, according to Deputy Wise.

It was estimated that $100 damage had been done to the machine and $3 or $4 in change was stolen, along with four bottles of pop.

Ohio politics

Mr. Glenn is doing to our political system."

Elsewhere in the campaign, Republican gubernatorial candidates Charles Fry of Springfield and Bert Dawson of East Liverpool discussed the issues before the Cleveland City Club Friday beside an empty chair on the rostrum reserved for former Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes declined the invitation, saying he had a prior business commitment. Fry said it was the fourth time Rhodes had declined to appear on the same platform with him.

"I don't think he can take the people of Ohio for granted," Fry said. "I think they will resent this arrogant approach."

Fry, a state representative, and Dawson, a Columbiana County Engineer, said financing for education was one of the main issues facing Ohioans.

Dawson said "the people of Ohio are disheartened that the Ohio income tax has not eliminated the problem of financing education."

Fry said both Democratic Gov. John Gilligan and Rhodes, when he held office "sold large tax increases to the people of Ohio and then failed to provide adequate funds for financing education."

James D. Nolan, who is opposing Gilligan for the Democratic nomination for governor, criticized the governor on the proposed state office building for Cleveland.

Nolan said the governor promised the building four years ago, but it hasn't been built. "This type of promise is what has turned people throughout Ohio against the Gilligan administration," he said.

Henry W. Eckhart, candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, said the "Cleveland area utility user gets 'ripped-off' more than any utility user in the entire state of Ohio."

"How much longer are the Cleveland utility users going to subsidize the stockholders of these supposedly regulated monopolies?" he asked.

Tree box, auto fires reported

A tree box in the downtown Washington C.H. area caught fire yesterday afternoon, and a car owned by a Second Street man blazed up early Saturday morning.

At 4:04 p.m. Friday, the Fire Department was summoned to put out a fire in one of the city tree boxes located in front of 139 W. Court St. They doused the fire with water and reported no loss.

A car owned by David Redden, 417 Second St., back-fired through the carburetor and caught fire at 1:59 a.m. today in the 700 block of Delaware Street.

Firemen reported $20 damage and said that Redden's car did not have an air cleaner.

Gilligan on crutches due to tennis injury

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan will be on crutches when he visits Toledo Sunday for a fund-raising function and an address at a Lucas County Democratic precinct workers dinner.

Gilligan suffered a torn muscle in his right leg Friday while playing tennis.

Two larceny reports under investigation

Two boxes of shop tools belonging to a Bloomingburg man were stolen, the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported, and city police report the theft of baseball equipment from an automobile.

The two boxes, containing tools and other items, were stolen from a storage building by thieves who removed the paneling in order to gain entry sometime between April 22-26, sheriff's deputies said.

KSU trials scheduled for Sept. 30

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Frank Battisti has set Sept. 30 as the date for the trial of eight former Ohio National guardsmen indicted in connection with the May 4, 1970 shootings at Kent State University. Battisti set the date Friday in an order covering pretrial disclosure of information.

Under his order, the government has until June 1 to turn over to defense lawyers any statements the eight have made concerning the shootings, including their federal grand jury testimony.

Battisti gave the government until Aug. 1 to turn over all documents, books or photographs to be used by the prosecution, information concerning electronic surveillance of the defendants and names and address of witnesses to be called.

The judge said, however, the witnesses' names do not have to be turned over if disclosure would subject them to harm or coercion.

The eight are charged with depriving student demonstrators of their constitutional rights by wilfully assaulting and intimidating Kent students who were slain or wounded by National Guard gunfire.

Four students died and nine others were wounded in the confrontation between antiwar demonstrators and guardsmen.

Plea for Nixon support falls short

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House argument that the future of the Republican party is inextricably wrapped up in the fate of Richard Nixon has met with a chilly response from party leaders.

Dean Burch, former party chairman and now a special counselor to the President, told the Republican National Committee Friday that the convictions of the people, the principles of the party and the programs and policies of the administration are indistinguishable.

"I'm not going to play chicken-and-egg—they're simply indistinguishable," Burch said. "By the same token, I submit to you that Richard Nixon is our President and the leader of our party, and that these two roles are indistinguishable: Our hopes and our goals and our fortunes are one.

"His record of accomplishment is our record, and it is a record solidly based in Republican principle," Burch said. "The President's record is a platform for Republican candidates to grab hold of and to run on."

The lines fell flat on a silent audience. Later, a committee member who asked not to be named said that once the primaries are over, "you're going to see Republicans running against the President."

"No, there wasn't any enthusiasm for it," Ohio GOP chairman Kent McGough said of Burch's speech, adding Ohio Republicans "are going to run on state issues."

"This is not a presidential year as far as we're concerned in Indiana," committeeman L. Keith Bulen said. "We're not going to invite the President, the vice president, the Cabinet or Hollywood stars. We're going to run on the basis of the issues and against the record of the incumbent."

"We're running as Michigan Republicans," said Michigan chairman William McLaughlin, whose state party has lost two formerly "sure" Republican congressional seats in recent special elections, including one race in which Nixon personally campaigned.

Portuguese jail emptied

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portugal's new military government began emptying jails of political prisoners today.

The junta announced that 43 prisoners were freed from Piniche Military Prison and 79 others were released at Caixas Fortress in the outskirts of Lisbon.

More than 30 political police at the directorate general of security surrendered to the military in groups of two or three. About 200 to 400 police were believed to be hiding at the directorate general.

Minor crashes investigated

Four minor accidents; three Friday and one Thursday, are listed by city police. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department had one Friday accident on its books.

SHERIFF

FRIDAY, 5:10 a.m. — A car driven by Dewey T. Keaton, 29, Bloomingburg, was moderately damaged when it struck a parked car owned by George F. Downing, Jeffersonville, on private property in Union Township, two miles east of Washington C.H.

POLICE

FRIDAY, 7:33 p.m. — Minor damage resulted when cars driven by Donald G. Shibley, 50, Rt. 1, and Phillip D. Garringer, 17, of 14738 U.S. 35-NW collided on the Car Shine-Car Wash parking lot, 1220 Columbus Ave.

11:15 a.m. — An accident involving a car driven by Daniel W. Osborne, 40, of 229 Delaware St., and a truck driven by Swanson H. Mounts Jr., 32, Greenfield, occurred at the intersection of Court and Hinde streets. Both men claimed injury but were not treated.

10:10 a.m. — A car driven by William Ernst, 50, of 529 Harrison St., struck a parked car owned by Frelan VanMeter, 525 Albin Ave., in the municipal parking lot on S. Fayette Street. Moderate damage was done to the parked car.

THURSDAY, time unknown — A car owned by Beulah Weeters, 231 N. Fayette St., was struck in the rear by a hitskip driver while it was parked in a private drive at the rear of her residence. Damage was slight.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

The deep grief of the bereaved family often causes an inability to make decisions, to cope with routine arrangements, to control the emotions. The funeral director, along with the family's spiritual adviser, must use all their resources of character to help the family to work through this difficult time.

Respectfully,

SENIOR HOBOES — Senior Citizens of Fayette County celebrated March-April birthdays within the group at a "hobo" party in the Center on Delaware Street Friday afternoon. Birthdays celebrated were those of Jess Robinette, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hook, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Tracy, Ralph Hurr, Homer Penwell and Kenneth Craig.

2 more Wilmington policemen suspended

WILMINGTON — The 16-man Wilmington Police Department received another shock Friday when two patrolmen were suspended for allegedly withholding information from a Monday shooting incident for which another city police officer has been charged with aggravated murder.

"This is absolutely the worst thing that could have happened," said Wilmington Police Chief Thomas E. White, who was appointed chief five months ago. "I want it known that these men had absolutely nothing to do with Monday's shooting case. They're fine officers, both of them. But this case is of such a serious nature that we felt any holding back of information during the investigation is cause for suspension," White said.

The two police officers suspended Friday were Ursel Webb, 37, a member of the force since January, 1967, and Paul Dischner, 32, a city patrolman for the past three years. A Civil Service Commission hearing will be held on the suspensions if the two officers request one.

THE TWO MEN were suspended for allegedly not telling investigators everything they knew about the

The News In Brief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph Alioto, saying the city's streets "must be made safe from these mad murderers," has pledged to keep the Zebra manhunt going despite an adverse court ruling.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger heads into a new round of nuclear weapons and Middle East negotiations promising he will be guided by America's self-interest—and not the impeachment problems of President Nixon.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Insurance Institute estimated today that the tornadoes that cut across the state April 3 caused nearly $167 million in damage to insured property.

But OII Executive Director John Winchell said total damage, including underinsured and non-insured property, could climb as high as $175 million to $200 million.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has asked voters not to take out any anger at the President by voting against Republicans running this year, including himself.

Name chief for Armco

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. has named Harry Holiday to succeed Donald Reichelderfer as president of the firm effective May 1.

Reichelderfer is retiring.

Also elected at Friday's board meeting was Gordon Hughes, who will take over as group vice president responsible for the steel firm.

Hughes joins executive vice president D. C. Boone, Holiday, and chairman and chief executive officer William Verity in the company's corporate executive office.

Armco announced Friday it was declaring a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share of common stock.

A regular quarterly dividend of 52.5 cents per share of cumulative convertible preferred stock was also announced.

'No justification', energy czar says

$3.73 profit on 10-cent oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil companies are making a profit of $3.73 per barrel on some Arab oil that costs 10 cents to produce, says new energy chief John C. Sawhill.

As U.S. oil companies continued to report huge first-quarter profit increases, Sawhill told newsmen Friday that a large portion came from producing foreign oil — including oil the Arabs withheld from the United States during their embargo.

Company profits on some Saudi Arabian oil soared in one year from 79 cents to $3.73 per barrel, Sawhill said. Although government price controls supposedly limit petroleum price increases to those justified by increased costs, there appears to be no legal barrier to these increased profits.

The increase, if allowed to flow through unchecked into the U.S. market, could cost American consumers some $2.7 billion a year.

Sawhill said there was "no economic justification" for the huge profit jump on so-called "equity oil," which amounts to 14 per cent of the total oil used in the United States.

But he said it may be justified if the profits are reinvested to increase domestic oil production.

Meanwhile, the government reported a trade deficit in March for the first time in nine months and blamed the development on the spiraling cost of foreign oil.

Reports of huge oil company profits continued Friday. Mobil Oil Co., the nation's third largest oil company, said its first-quarter profits were 7 per cent less than the previous quarter but 66 per cent more than the same period last year.

This result was in line with an industry pattern of sharply higher oil profits for the majors this quarter. They have been up as much as 123 per cent, reported by Texaco Oil Co. earlier this week.

In addition, the country's five largest oil companies trimmed millions of dollars from their first-quarter profit figures by setting up contingency funds for possible retroactive crude oil prices or tax increases.

The companies — Exxon, Texaco, Mobil, Gulf and Standard of California — say the money is placed in the contingency funds to cover potential retroactive increases in costs for the quarter.

Mitchell-Stans jury ponders perjury counts

NEW YORK (AP) — A jury resumes deliberations for the third day today in the trial of John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans after indicating it had shifted attention from the conspiracy charge to perjury counts against Mitchell.

The jury of nine men and three women got the case in federal court Thursday after a 10-week trial. Requests to the judge appear to mean they were moving straight through the 15-count indictment and had gotten about halfway.

Their first requests after beginning deliberations were for more information about the conspiracy charge — the first count against the two former Cabinet officers.

Late Friday, the jury asked Judge Lee P. Gagliardi to elaborate on two of six perjury counts against Mitchell, 60, the former attorney general.

The conspiracy count charges Mitchell and Stans with a corrupt agreement to impede a securities fraud investigation of financier Robert Vesco in return for Vesco's $200,000 secret cash contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign. The defendants quit the Cabinet to run the campaign.

After the conspiracy count are two counts of obstruction of justice against both defendants. The jury so far has not asked about them.

They allege an attempt to impede the Securities and Exchange Commission probe of Vesco and the massive civil fraud suit the SEC filed in 1972 against the New Jersey financier.

Vesco, 38, was indicted in the case but has fled the country.

The jury's request on the two Mitchell perjury counts involve a charge that he lied to a grand jury when he denied seeing Nixon campaign volunteer Daniel Hofgren at a Washington fund-raising reception on March 8, 1972, and that he lied in denying that he talked to Vesco lawyer Harry Sears in September 1972 about an SEC subpoena of Vesco.

At the jury's request, Gagliardi had parts of the trial testimony reread about the two incidents, as well as parts of his instructions about the perjury law.

Whooping cough epidemic checked

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Health officials said Cincinnati's whooping cough epidemic has reached 50 cases, but said they believe the spread of the disease has been curtailed.

"We think it has peaked," said City Health Commissioner William R. Elsea.

Only one case was reported Friday. Twelve of the 50 were hospitalized. Twenty-four of the cases were medical workers at Children's or General hospitals.

Threat of illicit bomb disclosed in AEC report

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The potential harm to the public from the explosion of an illicitly made nuclear weapon is greater than that from any plausible nuclear power plant accident," an Atomic Energy Commission report says.

The report, which discusses the possibility of terrorists stealing nuclear materials to make their own atomic bombs, was prepared by AEC official Dr. David M. Rosenbaum and four outside consultants.

It was made public Friday by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Its authors said they believe present methods for protecting facilities and transport of nuclear materials is not sufficient.

The AEC said it is "taking a hard look at the study to determine what additional measures should be taken to further strengthen the requirements to safeguard nuclear materials from theft."

The report said that acquiring the nuclear material is the only remaining obstacle facing those who want such a weapon because there is "widespread and increasing dissemination of precise and accurate instructions on how to make an atomic bomb in your basement."

The study also said the kidnapping of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst, as claimed by the Symbionese Liberation Army, was no isolated incident.

"If not firmly and competently met, these kidnappings may lead to a rise of urban terrorist groups of a sort unprecedented in our history," the report said.

English art theft loss $20.4 million

BLESSINGTON, Ireland (AP) — A gang of gunmen led by a young woman raided the country home of a gold mining millionaire Friday night and stole 16 masterpieces worth an estimated $20.4 million.

It apparently was the world's largest robbery.

The value of the art works was given by James White, director of Dublin's National Gallery, where the paintings often were on exhibit. Police, however, would not comment on the value of the paintings owned by Sir Alfred Beit.

Beit's wife, Clementine, told newsmen one of the gunmen dragged her out of the mansion in this village south of Dublin, kicked her and flung her on the stone stairs, shouting: "We'll be back for you later."

Irish police said the woman, speaking with a French accent, knocked at the door to Beit's 18th century home, and when a young servant opened the door three armed men pushed inside. Beit, 71, and his wife were listening to records in the drawing room.

"They rushed in shouting 'capitalist pigs' and told us that we were walking on the working class," Beit said. "One of them put a revolver against my neck. I turned and he hit me."

The Beits and their four servants were tied up, police said, while the woman, apparently very knowledgeable about art, casually selected the best of Beit's treasures.

She first chose the most valuable of the stolen paintings — a small Vermeer named "Woman Writing a Letter" valued at $7.2 million. Also taken were works by Vermeer, Franz Hals, Goya, Reubens, Gainsborough, Velasquez, Guardi, Moreelse, Ruisdael and Metsu.

The whole operation, police said, was over in seven minutes.

Detectives theorized that the thieves were members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army and may have taken the paintings to use as ransom to free guerrillas jailed in the Irish republic.

The largest robbery listed in the Guinness Book of World Records was $11.5 million in gold bars and bank notes stolen by American servicemen and German civilians in June 1945 from a mountain-side cache near Einsiedel, Bavaria.

The biggest previous art theft occurred on Dec. 31, 1966, when eight masterpieces valued at $7 million were taken from London's Dulwich College art gallery.

Metzenbaum-Glenn mud slinging worsens

By The Associated Press
U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum Friday accused his Democratic primary opponent, John Glenn, of conducting a malicious campaign of "personal vilification and distortion of fact."

James Schiller, Metzenbaum's campaign manager, sent a complaint to the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in Washington charging Glenn with seven counts of violating the fair campaign practices code.

The action came shortly after Glenn's headquarters released a telegram from Frank R. Valeo, secretary of the U.S. Senate, saying he found "substantial reason to believe" nine charges of illegal campaign practices against Metzenbaum.

Schiller said the charges were "insubstantial" and accused Glenn of "using the office of the secretary of the Senate for his own cynical political ends."

Code violations listed by Schiller included distribution of a letter that casts "malicious doubt as to Sen. Metzenbaum's loyalty," bumper stickers linking him to President Nixon, and statements that Metzenbaum's house was built with nonunion labor and that he accepted an illegal corporate contribution.

Schiller asked the committee to "act speedily to put a stop to these tactics."

Glenn could not be reached for comment. But he has denied any knowledge of the letters questioning Metzenbaum's loyalty or the Metzenbaum-Nixon bumper stickers.

Earlier Friday, Metzenbaum announced he had withdrawn two campaign commercials which he said he had found to be "inappropriate."

Glenn had contended the commercials, which dealt with his voting record, were untrue and had threatened to complain to the Federal Communications Commission if they were not taken off the air.

Thus the charges and countercharges over campaign practices continued as the two candidates approached the final full week of the race before the May 7 primary.

Metzenbaum and Glenn were to appear together twice this weekend, answering questions from newsmen at an Ohio Associated Press Broadcasters Association meeting at Kings Island near Cincinnati Saturday night and on a Columbus television interview program Sunday morning.

Glenn's headquarters said the telegram from the secretary of the Senate advised William R. White, the former astronaut's finance director, that the charges against Metzenbaum should be investigated.

Two charges involved late registration by the Metzenbaum for Senate Committee and Metzenbaum Election Committee. The other seven charges involved failure of those two committees and five others to "reveal existing or connected organizations..."

Glenn, campaigning in Cleveland, noted Ohio election laws are even tougher than federal laws, and "if Mr. Metzenbaum were running for state — instead of federal — office, he probably would have been ruled off the ballot."

Metzenbaum said in Dayton Friday that the charges were technical violations and should create "no problem at all."

Schiller said the charges "would be ludicrous were it not for the damage

Disclose Haldeman had pile of cash to assist aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — H.R. Haldeman, while serving as White House chief of staff, kept a stack of cash in his safe to make gifts to White House employees, according to a former aide.

The disclosure came in testimony by Lawrence M. Higby given last December and unsealed Friday by U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey.

Higby, a former Haldeman aide now with the Office of Management and Budget, testified that Haldeman kept a stack of $100-and-$20-bills.

Higby said he understood the money was given to Haldeman late in 1968 after President Nixon's election "to be passed on to those members of the staff who needed funds" for moving costs.

Haldeman, reached in California, declined comment.

In another development, the Senate Watergate committee is beginning its final process of writing a report.

Legislative proposals are flowing into the committee, but none have been approved or reviewed by the senators. The report is due May 28.

Some of the ideas have become public, including one to depoliticize the Justice Department and make it an independent agency.

Other proposals would make the FBI

and the Central Intelligence Agency independent agencies.

In other Watergate-related developments:

—President Nixon was reported considering a nationwide broadcast address next week as he continues his fight against impeachment. Such a speech, to allow Nixon to present his case directly to the public, is reported to be one of several options being considered.

—White House counselor Dean Burch said Nixon is preparing to give the House Judiciary Committee "compelling and persuasive" data next week. A committee subpoena for 42 presidential tapes is due Tuesday. Burch said after the President provides his information "the end of Watergate will be in sight."

—Former presidential appointments secretary Dwight L. Chapin was denied a new trial on his perjury conviction by a federal judge who said "the proof that the defendant deliberately lied was overwhelming."

—The perjury trial of California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke was delayed at the request of defense lawyers. Reinecke, seeking the GOP gubernatorial nomination, said there was nothing unusual in asking for the delay.

Chicagoans battle deadly chemical fog

CHICAGO (AP) — The threat of a potentially deadly chemical fog diminished today after it drifted off and away from an area of the South Side where it had forced the evacuation of thousands of persons.

Thirty persons suffering from dizziness, fainting and stinging eyes were taken to hospitals after the cloud formed Friday from a chemical pouring from a storage tank. Most were listed in fair condition. Five were admitted.

Civil Defense officials estimated 14,000 persons were evacuated from the Altgeld Gardens Housing project and nearby homes Friday night as the milk-colored cloud oozed across the South Side.

Some 2,000 were lodged overnight in a high school several miles from the scene and a temporary hospital was set up there.

"I was standing on the corner waiting for a bus," Mrs. Euler Terry said. "I couldn't breathe." She said she ran into her home to escape the fumes. "The stuff was coming in under the door... it was coming in the windows."

Maxine Durham said her daughter collapsed from inhaling the gas. "Once we got on the bus, she was screaming in pain," Mrs. Durham said.

The chemical cloud, five miles long and one-half mile wide, appeared to be "under control," officials said early today. The cloud formed as the chemical flowed from an 18-inch crack in a storage tank at a rate of 100 gallons a minute.

Authorities said the main danger was that the chemical, silicon tetrachloride, could convert to deadly hydrochloric acid on contact with water, including rain and fog. Breathing the acid, they said, could be fatal. "The proper concentration and a couple of good whiffs and you'd be dead," a fire department spokesman said.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency said crews were hoping to seal the leak with a shipment of special foam. They said earlier attempts to control the situation by pumping out the 500,000-gallon tank had proved too slow.

Gov. Daniel Walker ordered out the Illinois National Guard to aid the evacuation and prevent looting but called back all units except a battalion of military police.

The silicon tetrachloride was in liquid form. However, it quickly vaporized on contact with air.

Agriculture effects on water quality topic for researchers

COSHOCTON — Cooperative research on how beef cattle and cropping systems affect water quality from agricultural watersheds has been announced by USDA's Agricultural Research Service (ARS) and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center (OARDC), Wooster.

Results of the studies will affect agricultural practices in southeastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania, western West Virginia, eastern Kentucky, and similar areas throughout the nation.

THE COOPERATIVE studies will be conducted at the ARS North Appalachian Experimental Watershed, 10 miles northeast of Coshocton on Ohio 621. The 470 acres of cropland, 270 acres of permanent grassland, and 307 acres of woodland have been a USDA research facility since 1935.

A memorandum of understanding authorizing the cooperative research program was signed recently by Dr. Roy M. Kottman, OARDC director, and Earl R. Glover, regional deputy administrator, ARS, USDA, and approved by the OARDC Board of Control.

"This watershed research center is an ideal location for conducting intensive studies of runoff and particularly for measuring environmental pollutants from farming enterprises," according to Dr. Kottman. The center consists of some 30 watersheds ranging in size from one to 303 acres. USDA has hydrologic records going back more than 30 years on some of the watersheds.

"All of us in agriculture are interested in improving the quality of our environment," Dr. Kottman added. "If agriculture is contributing to pollution, we need to identify its causes and to develop and apply corrective measures."

Glover called the memo of understanding a "landmark agreement." He said, "It effects a significant new dimension in our cooperative ties with OARDC. It is unique and will be a fine example of joint State Experiment Station-ARS research in this region and the country as a whole."

ARS scientists have been conducting land and water use research at the center for several years. OARDC scientists have cooperated in several of the studies. Different farming practices have been studied to test new and better ways of farming the sloping lands characteristic of the area. All of the watersheds can be instrumented to obtain precipitation, runoff, and sediment data.

Objectives of the new cooperative program include measurement of the storage and movement of water, sediment, chemicals, and animal wastes within a watershed and evaluation of the quantity and quality of runoff and soil profile drainage to ground water. These data would quantitatively and qualitatively determine all water pollutants resulting from a beef cattle farm enterprise.

OARDC will provide beef cattle and will conduct cow-calf-feedlot studies in concert with watershed research designed to determine related effects on water quality. Specific studies will include the effects of summer and winter pasturing of beef cattle on the quality of surface and ground water leaving agricultural watersheds, effects on water quality of modern crop cultural practices, and effects of barnlot runoff on downstream water quality.

ARS AND OARDC scientists will separate water and sediment in runoff samples and analyze for nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, chlorine, and pesticides in both the water and the sediment. In areas where animals are located, they will determine the biological oxygen demand, total volatile solids, and total organic content of the runoff samples.

ARS will continue its other watershed research activities and provide funds for maintenance of the present physical plant. OARDC will assume the responsibility for providing personnel to manage and carry out all field operations involving farming and livestock programs.

The research will establish water and chemical interrelationships resulting from various farming practices.

Farm Bureau official raps export proposal

COLUMBUS — C. William Swank, executive vice president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, Inc., has blasted as "irresponsible" U.S. Sen. Howard E. Metzenbaum's proposals to curtail American grain exports.

Swank said Metzenbaum's proposals to increase domestic grain supplies by cutting exports would lead to international trade deficits and, eventually, a shortage of food in the country — precisely what the senator seeks to eliminate.

Sen. Metzenbaum is advocating cheap food at the expense of the American farmer and public, he said. "If grain exports are curtailed, the result will be a less stable dollar which will hurt jobs and the country will again be saddled with an unfavorable balance of trade."

SWANK SAID agricultural products composed about 25 per cent of U.S. exports in 1973 and were the primary reason for America's favorable trade balance.

"If farm prices drop with farm production costs continuing to rise, the only alternative for the farmer is to stop farming," he said. "No one should be asked to produce at a loss."

Swank said many farmers now are losing money on hogs and cattle in their

Senate measure signing lauded by Farm Bureau

COLUMBUS — The executive vice president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation has praised the signing of Senate Bill No. 423 (State Issue No. 1) saying, "The new law means Ohio farmland will continue to produce food instead of acres of unplanned suburban concrete."

C. William Swank, attending the signing ceremony in Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan's office, said the new law insures that farmers won't be taxed off their lands by housing and industrial development. The law provides for taxation of farmland on the basis of its productivity for farming rather than its market value as real estate.

The law, while not a tax break for farmers, does keep farmland tax bills from ballooning as suburbs encroach on rural areas.

Swank praised Gilligan for strong leadership in passage of the law and he praised the strong bipartisan support shown the measure in both the Ohio House and Senate.

Among members of the Ohio legislature, Swank had particular praise for Senators William H. Mussey (R-Batavia), Theodore M. Gray (R-Columbus) and Douglas Applegate (D-Steubenville) and Representatives A.G. Lancione (D-Bellaire), John E. Johnson (D-Orville) and Charles F. Kurfess (R-Bowling Green).

"However, ultimately," Swank said, "we must thank the people of Ohio who approved State Issue One in the November election making possible the Constitutional basis for this law."

feedlots. If they are forced to reduce production because of curtailed exports the result will eventually be less food for the American public.

"It's misleading to expect cheap food when the price of almost everything else is rising," he said. Prices for fertilizer have doubled in the last year and fuel costs have risen 50 per cent."

Two of Sen. Metzenbaum's proposals are already being done Swank said. Metzenbaum called for a licensing procedure to control overseas shipments but the U.S. Department of Agriculture already requires that exports be reported. He also asked for a weekly accounting of export grain sales and foreign food shipping which is already being done.

Metzenbaum said more American wheat is being exported than is being kept in the United States but Swank said this has always been the case with the country's grain surplus. Two-thirds of the wheat has been exported for the last 20 years.

Farmers paying heavily for fertilizer supply

COLUMBUS — Two facts are prominent when discussing Ohio's nitrogen fertilizer situation. Farmers are paying up to $400 a ton this year for the same fertilizer they bought in 1973 for $75 to $100 a ton. They also need more fertilizer, especially nitrogen, this year than last due to increased acreage brought into production in 1974 after the USDA abandoned the set aside acreage program.

But the question of supply, if and when this nitrogen will be available, has not been answered.

GENE R. ABERCROMBIE, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, has predicted that supplies of nitrogen fertilizers may be 30 per cent less than demand in Ohio. This figure is a result of an ODA fertilizer survey as part of a report to be submitted to Ohio's Energy Task Force.

"Every farmer knows about this shortage possibility," he said. "If they can get necessary nitrogen for their corn, Ohio will have the predicted 3.8

million acre corn crop. But as planting starts, if supplies are unavailable, an increase in soybean acreage will be the only alternative."

"Supply shortages have been attributed to a myriad of causes. All of them together just compounded the problem," Abercrombie said. "Several Ohio nitrogen suppliers have gone out of business. At least two manufacturers have moved out of the state."

We've got everything you need to produce top soybean yields. We not only provide the best service but the best advice, too!

Like advice on weed killers, for example. In this area most soils range from 1% to 4% organic matter so we recommend Du Pont

LOROX linuron weed killer. It has been proven to outperform other herbicides in light-to-medium soils.
With any chemical, follow labeling instructions

National Sins Day

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

At the initiation of Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, a theologically sharp Oregonian who is regarded a possible choice for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination, many Americans have set aside a day to "confess our national sins and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

They've scheduled observances on Tuesday, April 30, of a National Day of Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer, as urged in a resolution introduced by Hatfield and adopted by the U.S. Senate.

Participation has been supported by the U.S. Catholic bishops administrative board, by several Protestant and ecumenical organizations and by many community groups. At least seven governors—in Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, Louisiana, Georgia, Nebraska and Alabama—have issued proclamations for the observance.

Hatfield, 51, a biblically minded student of Abraham Lincoln and a critic of so-called "civil religion" that equates Americanism with God, says "we must turn in repentance from the sin that has scarred our national soul."

"Only a national confession of corporate guilt can save us from the worship of our own finite power ... (and) heal the wounds that presently afflict us."

A Baptist and two-time governor of his home state before being elected to the U.S. Senate in 1966, Hatfield is among few federal lawmakers (along with Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa) disposed to discuss issues in such explicitly religious terms.

Speaker at McNair

A guest speaker, the Rev. Hugh B. Evans, executive Presbyter of the Presbytery of Scioto Valley, will be featured at McNair Presbyterian Church this Sunday at the morning worship service.

Mr. Evans served as pastor of the Seventh Church, Cincinnati, from 1945 through 1968. He was then executive secretary of the General Assembly's Department of Ministerial Relations until 1973.

FOR BETTER WEED CONTROL ON VARIABLE SOILS

USE

LOROX + Lasso

Time was when soils varied so did your weed control. But no more. Now you can mix LOROX linuron weed killer and LASSO* together and get consistent, uniform weed control, even if soils vary 1% to 2% in organic matter.

You'll get better control of • barnyard-grass • crabgrass • foxtails • lambs-quarters • pigweed and • ragweed. And the cost is low, too.

For the best weed control at least cost in uniform fields of light-to-medium soil, use LOROX by itself.

With any chemical, follow labeling instructions and warnings carefully.

Ceramic classes changed for county fair

There have been some changes for ceramic classes for the Fayette County Fair this year. There are 15 classes, and one may enter 10 classes and pay 10 cents per class for the additional five. Also for the first time, there will be a "Sweepstake Award." The competition is open to anyone in Fayette County with the purchase of an exhibitors ticket which may be obtained at the secretary's office July 12-13 between the hours of 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Articles are to be brought to the Fairgrounds on July 20 between 1 and 5 p.m.

For the first time, a decoupage class is offered on any surface. This is an old art that has been revised.

The Ceramics Classes are: Hand formed; stain finish, matte or satin finish; glazed finish; overglazed finish; underglazed finish; decorated figurine; porcelain piece; novelty item; Christmas piece; any seasonal item (not Christmas); dry wipe; crystals; lamp (without shade); and centerpiece.

They will be judged at 12:30 p.m. on Monday, July 22, by Mrs. Catherine Hines of Springfield. Following the judging, Mrs. Hines will give a ceramic demonstration from 2 until 4 p.m. J.W. Sears is the director in charge.

Class attendance is discussed

The Loyal Disciples Class of the South Side Church of Christ met in Fellowship Hall with 15 members and one guest present.

Charles Starkey, class president, conducted the meeting, which was opened by prayer by Dwight Foy.

Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. Nelson Secrets made reports when class attendance and other projects were discussed.

"Memories" was the topic of devotions presented by Mr. Foy. The closing prayer was by Traverse Hollingsworth. Hostesses were Mrs. Secrets, Mrs. Howard Bowdle, and Mrs. Opal Todd.

The next meeting will be held in Wilmington May 30.

"MAYBE WE'RE RAGGED AND FUNNY" — but Ted Merritt and Mrs. Margaret Willis were chosen a king and a queen in their own right; king and queen of the Hobo-March-April-Birthday party the Senior Citizens of Fayette County had Friday afternoon at Senior Citizens Center. Almost everyone dressed for the not-so-formal occasion.

Town and Country Garden Club topic is 'Growing Roses'

Members of the Town and Country Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Mildred Henkelman. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Lee Cleland who read a poem entitled, "Hope." Reports were given by Mrs. Alvin Armintrout and Mrs. Dwight Duff and roll call was answered with spring gardening hints.

A report on the recent meeting at which Mr. James Caldwell, Extension Horticulturist from Ohio State University was the speaker, was given by Mrs. Robert Browning and Mrs. Charles Duff.

Mrs. Cleland announced the Piketon Dogwood Festival is being held in Pike County on April 27 and 28 and urged the members to attend if possible.

The Redbud trees, being sold by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs in recognition of Arbor Day, were distributed to the members.

Plans were made for a tour to Lebanon on June 12 for a luncheon at the Golden Lamb and stops at historical points of interest.

Mrs. Cleland introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mr. Howard Knutson of Bellbrook, whose topic was "Growing Roses". Mr. Knutson is president of the Miami Valley Rose Society and a member of many county and regional rose societies. He spoke on four types of roses, hybrid T, grandiflora, miniature and floribunda, and told which types adapt best to arranging and various uses. He pointed out that the more root growth, the better and nothing is as important to successful rose growing as good root structure. He stated that thorough watering, either by adequate rainfall or a regular watering program by the gardener, is essential. Roses with a high petal count open more slowly and remain in good condition for a longer period of time than those with a lower petal count.

He emphasized that preventive measures for insects and diseases are very important and much better than trying to cure a disease that has already set in. He discussed pruning of roses, methods to induce early blooming, best planting times, best roses for growing in the area and gave the members many helpful tips on gardening. Following his talk, he answered many questions from those present.

At the conclusion of the evening, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dan Thompson to the members and two guests, Mrs. Laura Hughes and Mrs. Forrest Stephenson.

The next meeting will be May 22 at the home of Mrs. Charles Herman.

Mrs. Morrow circle hostess

Mrs. Max Morrow was hostess to members of the Mary Ruth Circle of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church. Mrs. Lavon Dennewitz, circle leader, opened the meeting by reading "Beyond Measure."

Roll call was answered by 10 members and one guest. Business included a request from Rev. Eugene Griffith for volunteers for a visitation program and for persons to write to a child in Hong Kong, sponsored by the church. Announcement was made of a 'family night' May 19, and of the mother-daughter banquet.

Mrs. Nathan Ervin presented the program on "Mother's Day" assisted by Mrs. Margaret Morrow. Mrs. Ervin read "Reflections," "A Tribute to Mother" and a prayer for Ideals magazine. Mrs. Morrow read "She Shall Be Praised."

Mrs. Dennewitz closed the meeting with an article entitled "A Lovely Day." Mrs. Roy Booco will be hostess for the next meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Minnie Linthicum, a guest, and Mrs. Anna Toliver, Mrs. Dennewitz, Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Booco, Mrs. Rowena Wright, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. George Reedy, Mrs. Myrtle Williams and Mrs. Ervin by Mrs. Morrow, the hostess.

Panthers lose to Tanks on one-hitter

AMIDST A HEAVY CLOUD OF DUST — Unioto's Danny Russell applies the tag to the Panthers' Phil Skinner, who tried to score from third on a wild pitch. (Larry Watts Photo)

By LARRY WATTS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Fayette County sports enthusiasts will long remember the two visits paid to them by Unioto's baseball team this week.

Arriving in Washington Court House Wednesday afternoon, the Shermans blanked the Blue Lions 6-0 on junior Jeff Throckmorton's no-hitter. Returning to Fayette County Friday evening, the Class A Shermans silenced Miami Trace 7-0 on a one-hitter by sophomore Danny Russell.

With the victory over the Panthers, the Tanks have widened their lead over the larger schools in the South Central Ohio League. The Shermans are now 7-1 in the SCOL and 14-1 for the season. The Panthers are in second place with a 5-3 SCOL record and 5-7 overall.

After a rough first inning, Russell only allowed four runners to reach base the rest of the afternoon. Two of the runners were hit by a pitch, one was walked and the other was safe on an error. For the afternoon, Russell wound up with 12 strikeouts and two walks.

If the Panthers had reached Russell for a run in the bottom of the first inning, the game might have taken a different perspective. With one out Phil Skinner dropped an opposite field single into right field. Skinner stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. Greg Cobb drew a walk, but the fourth ball was wild and Skinner tried to score. However, Sherman catcher Steve Chester retrieved the ball in time and fired it to Russell for the out. Russell then settled down and cut down

Randy Reiber on strikes for the final out.

For the first three innings, Reiber, who was the Panthers' pitcher, threw nothing but smoke past the Shermans. However, as the game wore on, Reiber seemed to have lost some of the steam on his fast ball and the Tanks were knocking the balls out of the infield just as fast as they came to the plate.

Until the sixth frame, the Panthers were only down 1-0. Unioto's two run outburst in the sixth and four runs in the seventh spelled the doom of Reiber and his teammates. After striking out five batters in the first three innings, Reiber finished the game with seven strike outs and three walks.

Unioto scored its first run in the fourth inning on heads-up baserunning by shortstop B.J. Dailey. Dailey led off with a single to right field and advanced from first to third on a sacrifice bunt by senior Ron Rutherford. Dailey came across the plate when Chester grounded out.

Two walks and two wild pitches helped account for the Shermans' four tallies in the final frame. The big blow was Johnson's double, which scored two runs.

Hoping to get back onto the winning track, Miami Trace may be forced to go into today's doubleheader at Westfall without the services of junior catcher Jay Mossbarger. In the final inning of Friday's game, Mossbarger was hit in the elbow by one of Russell's pitches. He was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Smith's home run defeats Blue Lions

The Blue Lion baseball team from Washington C.H. sank even lower into the depths of the South Central Ohio League race when they lost their fourth consecutive game and their fifth loss in the last six tries. Madison Plains came up with two runs in the seventh inning to trip the Lions 6-4.

Washington was protecting a 4-4 tie going into the seventh but all hopes went out the window when catcher Steve Smith stepped up and clouted a tie-breaking home run that proved to be the winning blow.

Madison plains used two pitchers in the duel. Bill Flanagan, who pitched five innings, giving up eight hits and walked two; and John Green, who pitched the final two innings, giving up three hits, striking out three and walking just one in picking up the win.

The Blue Lions used a trio of pitchers. Craig Stabelton, coming off back injury, hurled four innings, giving up four innings, giving up four hits and three runs, while striking out five and walking just two. Greg McCune pitched the fifth and sixth innings, allowing just one run on one hit, while striking out two and issuing one base on balls.

Mark Johnson allowed the two runs in the seventh.

The Eagles started fast as they grabbed an early 2-0 lead in the first on a triple by Rick Givens, a double by Tom Rodgers and singles by Jim Sullivan and Ken Forest. They added one more in the second on a base on balls and two costly errors. They scrapped for one more in the sixth on a walk, fielders' choice, stolen base and a single by Vic Tope. Their final runs came on the homer by Smith, a triple by Rodgers and a single by Dave Joslin.

The Lions scored once in the second, third, fourth and sixth for their four tallies. Back-to-back doubles by Larry Dumford and David Rittenhouse got one in the second. Singles by Mark Johnson and Alan Cockock, plus a costly balk by Flanagan, accounted for the third inning score. Singles by Rittenhouse, David Stackhouse and pinch-hitter Herb Bonner got one in the fourth. The last run came on a basis of a single by Dumford, Rittenhouse's second double and a run scoring ground out by Jeff Wallace.

The loss sends the Lions overall mark on the season to 3-8 while their SCOL card suffers in the danger zone at 2-5.

Borbon shuts door on Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The manager of the St. Louis Cardinals insists Pedro Borbon pitches every day for the Cincinnati Reds.

"I think he even goes back to his hotel room and throws the ball off the wall," Red Schoendienst complained Friday night after Borbon stopped the Cards 4-3 in relief.

"I'll tell you one thing," the 51-year-old Schoendienst said. "If he ever gets hurt, they're going to go down the drain."

Schoendienst's frustration was to be expected after the Cards outhit the Reds 11-8 but left 12 runners stranded in a futile try to catch up.

They dispatched Reds starter Don Gullett, 2-1, via Reggie Smith's home run, a 395-foot clout to left-center in the fifth inning.

And an inning later Clay Carroll was on the ropes as St. Louis closed to its final margin.

But in the seventh, after Carroll and Tom Hall were both reached for singles to pose another threat, in strode the purposeful Borbon to slam the door.

He induced pinch-hitter Jim Hickman to hit into an inning-ending force-out, except for Ted Simmons' hot liner in the ninth, was untouchable.

Among his victims were Lou Brock, who fanned on a sinker in the eighth, and Smith, who was caught looking at a called third strike the same inning.

"The pitch was a slider," the 27-year-old Borbon said in reference to Smith, who is hitting .376. "Left-handers don't look for a slider," he noted. They look for a fast ball."

"I'm kind of glad I didn't have all my power on the bat," said Simmons, who was thrown out after his shot hit Borbon on the pitching wrist and left a swelling.

"If it'd been smoking more and been a little higher, it would have either gone through or it would have killed him and I'd hate to have that on my mind."

All the Reds' noise came in the early innings, including back-to-back doubles by Andy Kosco and Gullett following a second-inning walk.

After the Cards closed to 2-1, Dave Concepcion doubled home Joe Morgan

Drug charges hit Chargers

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The shell-shocked San Diego Chargers are reeling from yet another blow — discipline from the National Football League for violating its drug policy.

Eight veteran players, General Manager Harland Svare and owner Eugene Klein were fined a total of $40,000 Friday, said NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, adding they were also placed on probation.

Rozelle disclosed no details of the violations. But Svare, reached in Clarkfield, Minn., said: "Everybody knows we're talking about marijuana."

It was the first such action since the league announced last June that it was strengthening its anti-drug policy.

Defensive end Deacon Jones and linebacker Tim Rossovich were fined $3,000 each; wide receiver Jerry LeVias and defensive linemen Coy Bacon and Dave Costa $2,000 each; and linebacker-coach Rick Redman, running back Bob Thomas and guard Walt Sweeney $1,000 each.

Svare, who coached the Chargers half of last season and then became general manager, was fined $5,000. Klein was fined $20,000.

Sweeney, who was traded to the Washington Redskins after the season, was the only player who could be reached for comment.

"I'm appalled," he said. "I haven't done anything illegal. Happily, I'm no longer connected with them (the Chargers)."

However, it was reported that Rozelle had notified the players, their attorneys, and the Players Association before Friday's announcement, and all agreed not to oppose the punishment.

Drug problems on the Chargers first surfaced when former player Houston Ridge filed suit claiming improperly administered drugs caused an injury that ended his career in 1969.

Ridge settled the suit for $300,000. Sworn statements filed during the case accused the team of passing out as many as 10,000 pills in a year.

Rozelle said the players were fined for incidents in last summer's training camp and, in some cases, the regular season. He said the fines varied with each man's involvement and awareness of the harm to football.

"Please don't mention any records to me," Aaron said Friday night after smashing the 15th grand-slam home run of his career, setting a National League record and helping the Braves to a 9-3 thumping of the Chicago Cubs.

In Friday's other National League games, Pittsburgh downed Houston 4-3, Cincinnati beat St. Louis 4-3, San Diego defeated Philadelphia 6-2, Los Angeles shelled Montreal 7-1 and the New York Mets silenced San Francisco 6-0.

Aaron's homer, the 719th of his phenomenal career and sixth of this season, highlighted an eight-run uprising in the seventh inning and moved Bad Henry one grand slam ahead of Willie McCovey and the late Gil Hodges.

Pirates 4, Astros 3

Roger Metzger's error on Ed Kirkpatrick's basesloaded grounder in the bottom of the ninth gave the Pirates their victory over Houston.

Padres 6, Phillies 2

Dave Winfield hit a tie-breaking home run in the sixth inning for the Padres to help Dave Freisleben win his major league pitching debut. Freisleben hurled a four-hitter but lost a shutout in the sixth inning when Dave Del Unser hit a two-run homer for the Phils.

Dodgers 7, Expos 1

Andy Messersmith hurled a three-hitter and Steve Yeager drove in three runs in the Dodgers' rout of Montreal for their fourth straight victory.

Mets 6, Giants 0

Tom Seaver tossed a four-hitter, struck out seven San Francisco batters and belted a pair of run-scoring singles, pacing the Mets past the Giants.

White Sox hand Lolich 8-2 pounding

By The Associated Press

Mickey Lolich had a good fast ball and a good slider Friday night ... plus a good licking.

"My trouble? I couldn't get anybody out," the Detroit Tigers' ace left-hander said after absorbing an 8-2 pounding at the hands and bats of the Chicago White Sox.

The 33-year-old southpaw who once won 25 games shows an 0-4 record this season with a whopping 5.82 earned run average.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Baltimore Orioles edged the Oakland A's 6-5 in 15 innings, the New York Yankees nipped the Texas Rangers 4-3, the Cleveland Indians beat the California Angels 4-3, the Kansas City Royals downed the Boston Red Sox 4-2 and the Milwaukee Brewers shaded the Minnesota Twins 4-3.

Designated hitter Brian Downing's three-run homer in the fifth inning lowered the boom on Lolich. Dick Allen opened the fifth with a double and scored on Ron Santo's second double of the game. Ken Henderson was given an intentional walk before Downing smacked his homer to give Chicago a 7-1 cushion.

Orioles 6, A's 5

Don Baylor reached on a three-base error by Oakland center fielder Bill

North in the 15th inning and scored on Andy Etchebarren's sacrifice fly. Reggie Jackson hit his second home run of the game in the 12th to give the A's a 5-4 lead but the Orioles, who wiped out a 4-1 deficit with three runs in the eighth, tied it on Elrod Hendricks' single, a walk and Boog Powell's single.

Yankees 4, Rangers 3
Thurman Munson reached on an error by third baseman Lenny Randle to open the seventh inning and eventually scored the winning run on Bobby Murcer's grounder, beating shortstop Toby Harrah's throw to the plate.

Indians 4, Angels 3

Chris Chambliss' three-run double capped a four-run seventh-inning Cleveland uprising against Nolan Ryan. Chambliss' hit kayoed Ryan, who had taken a two-hit, 3-0 lead into the seventh.

Royals 4, Red Sox 2

Cookie Rojas knocked in one run with a single and another scored on his double play grounder while Steve Busby went the route for Kansas City, scattering six hits.

Brewers 4, Twins 3

Darrell Porter's two-run triple in the eighth gave the Brewers a 4-0 lead, just enough to withstand a three-run rally by the Twins in their half of the inning.

Church construction to begin

The First Church of God, 610 Harrison St., has reached the final stages of planning their new sanctuary, and construction of the building is about to begin.

Within the next two weeks, construction of the new $70,000 will begin just southeast of the Fellowship Hall. The sanctuary will have a seating capacity of approximately 250. It will contain a baptistry and choir loft.

The present sanctuary, built over 50 years ago, is scheduled for demolition after the new one is completed.

Warm, sunny weather was forecast to continue across the state today and Sunday, although showers may return to the state Sunday night and Monday. Clear skies and light winds prevailed over Ohio last night, allowing temperatures to drop to the 40s or low 50s. Youngstown was the coolest spot with a 40-degree reading shortly before daybreak.

Sunshine and southerly winds were expected to push readings into the 70s and 80s today. Highs tonight should be in the mid 50s under partly-cloudy skies.

The southerly winds are associated with a high centered this morning along the Atlantic Coast. The system is moving slowly eastward.

Following it is a low, located early today over the Northern Plains. The low should move into the state as the weekend ends, bringing with it the showers.

A chance of showers Monday through Wednesday. Highs in the 60s and 70s. Lows in the upper 40s and the 50s.

New center gets funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The South Central Regional Juvenile Detention Center, which will serve six Ohio counties, received an additional $60,000 Friday from the Ohio Criminal Justice Supervisory Commission.

The center, scheduled for completion in July, 1975, will house delinquent juveniles who otherwise would be detained in county jails. It will serve Fayette, Jackson, Pickaway, Pike, Ross and Vinton counties.

The $60,000, transferred from unused funds, supplements $172,840 already approved by the state.

The commission also approved transfer of $24,706 for a criminal justice information system in Wood County. The group granted the Civil Rights Compliance Committee authority to collect data to determine if Ohio recipients of federal criminal justice funds are complying with non-discrimination regulations.

System developed for appeal on fuel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has developed a system to permit persons to appeal when they are denied fuel.

Edmund C. Turk, commissioner chairman, said anyone denied application for additional fuel can file a letter of objection with the Fuel Allocation Center for review.

Sheep and lamb sale

A total of 405 head of sheep and lambs were sold at auction Friday at Producers Livestock Association.

The market was 75 cents higher than two weeks ago and slaughter sheep were $6 lower than prices realized two weeks ago.

Prices were 188 choice lambs, $42-$42.90; 41 good lambs, $39-$40.90; 22 feeder lambs, $35-down, and 154 slaughter sheep, $13.75-down.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SUNDAY, APRIL 28

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Some complexities indicated. In all situations, be sure you have the facts before making decisions. Travel and outdoor interests favored.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Good will built up in the past will prove an invaluable asset now. You gain added status and importance in several areas.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

You may have to revise some plans, change tactics, discard certain ideas but, in the final analysis, what you do well now will produce substantial dividends later.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Better-than-ordinary advantages indicated. But, in all things, look below the surface. Don't be taken in by superficialities.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

The use of an old strategy or piece of advice may be your best stand-by now. Look out for things "offbeat" or out-of-context, however, they can mislead.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Don't mix business with pleasure and don't press issues. For the moment, it will be better to let things take their course.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Some unusual developments in the making will affect you pleasantly. Especially favored now: travel, friendships, romance.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

If you have a problem to solve, wait until early afternoon when influences will be better than in the a.m. Otherwise, you may have to revise your ideas.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Certain matters in which you are interested need an extra push now. Get to them immediately. And, in all, stress forethought, accuracy, tact.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Avoid activities, ideas or people who are not worthwhile. Don't let curiosity overcome your innate good judgment.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You may have difficulty in persuading, gaining your point but, if you know you are on the right track, keep going — even if you understand the reasons for opposition for certain angles.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Consider all propositions carefully, to determine whether they are really worthwhile — and advisable at this time. In any case, don't be guided by your emotions.

YOU BORN TODAY are one of those rare persons who combine idealism and creativity with realistic know-how, and your successes seem to know no end. Extremely versatile, many Taureans often engage in two occupations at once — or several in sequence — and succeed in all. There are many fields in which you could reach the top, but you probably would excel most at painting, interior decorating, horticulture, as an educator or in the medical field. On the minus side, you are inclined to try and dominate others; are also inclined toward arrogance and self-will. Try to curb these traits for they could alienate persons in a position to help you.

MONDAY, APRIL 29

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Branch out to some extent. Realize your limitations, however, so you won't overreach your mark. Some complexities, otherwise.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Stress your independence of thought. Don't let associates talk you out of your ideas — even though they may be a bit on the unconventional side.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Certain situations in your work area now further your interests. An excellent day for handling matters of a confidential nature.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

If you have left nothing to chance, you should now be able to launch the first stages of a new undertaking, meanwhile giving thought to your next moves.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Avoid emotionalism. It could dim your vision, blind you to opportunities, of which there are many now. Also, avoid extremes and exaggeration.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Stellar influences excellent for constructive action. If judicious plans have already been made, carry them out smartly; make some, if you note a stalemate to progress.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Planetary influences splendid! If you time your moves carefully, you could put over a profitable deal now. Gains and prestige enhanced all down the line.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Fine Mars influences encourage your spirit of enterprise and go-gettiveness. A dandy outlook, but don't take anything for granted.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A good day for handling details ably, getting past opposition deftly and overcoming inhibitions which prevent smart thinking and action.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Some deceptive influences. Someone may try to involve you in a dubious activity. Steer clear and don't listen.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Stellar aspects, highly propitious, indicate top-flight achievement now. Artistic endeavors especially encouraged.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Some things which seemed at a standstill can now be picked up, brightened, advanced. Avoid extremes in thought and action, however.

YOU BORN TODAY are an extremely active person — both mentally and physically. You have a great love of beauty and exceptionally good taste. Many artists, writers, designers and theatrical stars were born in Taurus. Paradoxically, with all your love and talent for the creative, you could be a whiz at finances. But if you take up some form of business as a career, you will probably pursue some form of art as a hobby. Your wholesome outlook on life and optimism in the face of obstacles are outstanding.

Weed makes plea to kidnap group

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Steven Weed has urged the Symbionese Liberation Army to free newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst and not throw away $4 million set aside for her safe release.

Weed said Friday night he was working on a plan involving the money, which has been put in escrow by the Hearst Corp. The firm offered $4 million if Miss Hearst was safely released to her parents by May 3.

"One of the things I have been doing in the last eight days is to try to get together a specific proposal for this $4 million, to throw this thing out and just let everyone understand what the SLA is throwing away in return for Patty," he said in an interview with KGO-TV.

The commonest illness in the world is coryza or the common cold.

Variety is called the spice of life, and this hand sure produced it Tuesday night. Final bids on the hand were seven no trump, six hearts, four hearts, and three no trump. And for added interest seven no trump went down four, four hearts went down one, three no trump made five, and six hearts made six.

Dr. Kenneth Burris and J.C. Wright reached the slam in hearts by the following bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	6 ♥

The doctor, sitting south, got the king of spades opening lead.

In hearts, a spade or a club lead will make the slam, with a diamond the hand is doomed, and a heart out will beat it with proper defense.

Dr. Burris not only made the contract, but perhaps without intending to do so, toyed a bit with the defense.

He could have taken the opening lead with the ace and immediately played another spade to void dummy. Then when he regained the lead in any suit, he could trump his third spade in dummy and pitch the two losing diamonds on the ace and king of clubs.

For added zest, however, the doctor allowed the king to hold the first trick. West naturally continued the suit in hopes of taking the first two tricks.

Declarer, however, rose on the second spade, played one round of trump, and ruffed his third spade in dummy. The diamonds were quickly discarded on the clubs and he claimed 12 tricks.

Although the contract was by no means iron-clad, it offered a fair slam opportunity, and Dr. Burris made the best of it.

Winner of Tuesday's game at the Elk's Lodge were Mrs. J.C. Wright and George Malek first with 52, Dr. Kenneth Burris and J.C. Wright second with 49, and Mrs. Carl Crook and Mrs. William Bourke third with 45%. Par was 42.

Replacing Eye Fluid

Blindness due to hemorrhages in the vitreous fluid of the eye now seems to be curable.

A new operation now makes it possible to remove the cloudy fluid of the eye, clean it, and replace it in the eye.

The clear vitreous fluid once again allows light to penetrate it and return vision.

Dr. Nicholas Douvas, of Port Huron, Mich., believes that in carefully selected cases the results are extremely good. A number of other doctors all over the country are trying some modification of this simple operation. The enthusiasm for the results that have been obtained to date seems to be mounting as new cases are reported.

Artificial hips have been manufactured of metal, plastics and a variety of synthetic materials.

Hip replacements, once believed to be in the realm of science fiction, are now a practical reality.

Recently, a new one-piece artificial hip has been developed in Russia. It is called the sivasah hip.

Those who are using it in Russia believe that the new hip has many advantages and will avoid some of the post-operative complications of hip replacement.

Orthopedic surgeons in America are carefully evaluating this new prosthetic appliance first used by Dr. Constantin Sivasah in Moscow eight years ago.

Even though it has not yet been universally accepted by all doctors everywhere, it has opened interesting avenues for further study.

Another orthopedic innovation is being tried for the

BUZZ'N DUZZ'N 4-H

"Do You Know What to do in Case of a Tornado?" and "So You Know the Importance of Proper Posture, Exercise and Rest?" were topics presented in reports given by safety leader Susan Humphreys, and health leader Diane Davis at the recent meeting of the Buzz'n Duzz'n 4-H Club, held in Jasper School.

Diane led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledges. Roll was answered by naming a favorite fruit.

Julie Persinger gave the secretary's report and announced that club dues of $1.00 are due soon as possible.

Members were also reminded of the Spring Clothing Training meeting for April 26 and of the club's tour of Craig's Fabric Department May 1. The girls' mothers are urged to attend both of these.

The group voted to buy a gift for Miss Butcher of Craig's Store in appreciation for conducting the tour.

A demonstration of "How to put in a Hem" was made by Diane Davis.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 15 at Jasper School when Susan Humphreys will give a demonstration and Cindy and Diane Davis will be in charge of refreshments.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Susan Kile. The girls then played softball. Kristin Herdman, reporter

YATESVILLE PRODUCERS

The members of the Yatesville Producers 4-H Club enjoyed a potluck supper at the April 23 meeting. Bret Taylor called the meeting to order and Doug Welsh called the roll when members answered by introducing their parents and other guests.

Minutes were read and approved. Lisa Cook gave the treasurer's report and Paul Welsh gave a report of the Easter egg hunt. Leah Welsh gave out project books, and Paula Welsh reported on tours.

Sheila Gordon of South Africa was introduced by Bret Taylor. She showed slides of her native country and a question and answer period followed.

Bret reminded all that market lambs and pigs had to be on feed by May 10. There will be a lamb sale Saturday evening at the Fairground.

The meeting was adjourned. Sandy Beckman, reporter

WAYNE PROGRESSIVE FARMERS 4-H

A letter from the American Heart Association was read by David Louis, thanking the Wayne Progressive Farmers 4-H club for collecting and donating to the heart fund.

President Julie Fettes called the meeting to order and asked John Shepard to lead us in the 4-H Pledge and the Pledge of Allegiance.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Tammy Walters and Jeff Wilt. Roll call was answered by each member telling if they had been to the dentist in the last six months. The second amendment to the constitution was read by Julie Fettes.

It was announced that the hog and lamb clinic was Tuesday. The club discussed the coming lamb and hog sale. They will be April 27 and April 29.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. Robert Schwartz, who discussed cattle, hog and sheep diseases. He was introduced by Marilyn Seifried.

The swine members broke up into their group and the project books were given out.

Louie Null and Julie Fettes will serve refreshments at the next meeting.

Jim Hixon, Junior Safety Boy, gave a report on traffic safety.

Refreshments were served by Marilyn Seifried. Advisers are Jerry Hoppes, David Ogan, David Weade and Nanci Woods.

GM reports large drop in earnings

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors blames inflation and a slump in car sales in the wake of the energy crisis for the automaker's worst first-quarter earnings performance since before the Korean Conflict.

The worldwide auto giant said Friday its January-March profits totaled $120 million, an 85 per cent drop from the same period in 1973.

Plagued by a sales slump since December, GM reported revenues were down 27 per cent to $6.94 billion.

Sales at GM, which is dependent on large car lines, were off 46 per cent while U.S. auto sales averaged a 27 per cent decline during the period.

GM's per share earnings limped in at 41 cents, worst performance since 1948.

But the company's top two executives forecast the firm would make a substantial comeback in the not-to-distant future.

"As the economy strengthens in the months ahead and consumer confidence returns so will car buyers," said Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg and President Edward N. Cole. "Welcome strengthening of the market came too late to improve first quarter results."

GM's quarterly earnings represented the second consecutive drop from year-earlier levels, coming after the firm posted record sales and profits for the first nine months of 1973.

Jasper PTO plans projects, events

MILLEDGEVILLE — Financial matters were considered at a meeting of the Jasper Parent-Teacher Organization held at Milledgeville School this week.

The treasurer's report, showing $1,100 in available funds, was approved along with a bill for work recently completed at the school.

Estimates for providing the first and second grade rooms with ceiling tile were received. They ranged around $500 per room, and it was noted that the school board had allocated $250 toward the project.

Other possible programs were discussed, but the membership voted to continue to pursue the ceiling project. A committee was appointed to gather more information and to initiate action.

It was suggested that the PTO try to arrange for a trip to the Columbus Zoo for the children. If this cannot be worked out, the organization will sponsor a picnic for Milledgeville students.

The committee which was in charge of the recognition and awards banquet at school was acknowledged for its efforts.

The program was presented by the kindergarten class under the direction of the teacher, Miss Penny Johnson, and the music instructor, Mrs. Lee Marshall. The kindergarten was also awarded "Benzo the Bengal" for having the greatest number of parents in attendance.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gary Herdman, Mrs. Joanne Smith and Mrs. Marie Stires.

Governors plan trip to China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican and three Democratic governors are going to get a look at mainland China next month.

The White House announced on Friday the six governors will make a 10-day visit to China in mid-May as part of "an on-going program of people-to-people exchanges."

The Republicans are Daniel J. Evans of Washington, Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia and Robert D. Ray of Iowa. The Democrats are Calvin Rampton of Utah, Marvin Mandel of Maryland and Philip W. Noel of Rhode Island.

4 arrested in vendor thefts

Four persons were apprehended by Sheriff's Deputy Charles W. Wise at 4:05 a.m. Saturday in connection with an incident of tampering with a coin-operated vending machine.

Deputy Wise was on routine patrol when he pulled into the Sunoco service station, Ohio Rt. 38 and 171, and saw four people scramble into a Volkswagen and start to drive off.

He noticed the door to the pop vending machine hanging open and then cut in front of the car, stopping it.

The four: Roland D. Rinehart, 19, Sabina; Michael Lee Yankey, 18, New Vienna, a 17 year-old girl from New Vienna and a 17-year-old boy from Sabina were taken into custody.

Ohio politics

Mr. Glenn is doing to our political system."

Elsewhere in the campaign, Republican gubernatorial candidates Charles Fry of Springfield and Bert Dawson of East Liverpool discussed the issues before the Cleveland City Club Friday beside an empty chair on the rostrum reserved for former Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes declined the invitation, saying he had a prior business commitment. Fry said it was the fourth time Rhodes had declined to appear on the same platform with him.

"I don't think he can take the people of Ohio for granted," Fry said. "I think they will resent this arrogant approach."

Fry, a state representative, and Dawson, a Columbiana County Engineer, said financing for education was one of the main issues facing Ohioans.

Dawson said "the people of Ohio are disheartened that the Ohio income tax has not eliminated the problem of financing education."

Fry said both Democratic Gov. John Gilligan and Rhodes, when he held office "sold large tax increases to the people of Ohio and then failed to provide adequate funds for financing education."

James D. Nolan, who is opposing Gilligan for the Democratic nomination for governor, criticized the governor on the proposed state office building for Cleveland.

Nolan said the governor promised the building four years ago, but it hasn't been built. "This type of promise is what has turned people throughout Ohio against the Gilligan administration," he said.

Henry W. Eckhart, candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, said the "Cleveland area utility user gets 'ripped-off' more than any utility user in the entire state of Ohio."

"How much longer are the Cleveland utility users going to subsidize the stockholders of these supposedly regulated monopolies?" he asked.

Tree box, auto fires reported

A tree box in the downtown Washington C.H. area caught fire yesterday afternoon, and a car owned by a Second Street man blazed up early Saturday morning.

At 4:04 p.m. Friday, the Fire Department was summoned to put out a fire in one of the city tree boxes located in front of 139 W. Court St. They doused the fire with water and reported no loss.

A car owned by David Redden, 417 Second St., back-fired through the carburetor and caught fire at 1:59 a.m. today in the 700 block of Delaware Street.

Firemen reported $20 damage and said that Redden's car did not have an air cleaner.

Arrests

SHERIFF SATURDAY — Danny Dean Daughterty, 22, Bainbridge, reckless operation.

POLICE FRIDAY — Eldon L. Wilson, 21, Stritenberger Trailer Court-U.S. 35, receiving stolen property; Freddie Penwell Jr., of 838 Kohler Dr., unsafe bumper height; Thomas W. Everhart, 17, of 57 Hickory Lane-NE, excessive noise; Randy Dean Maag, 18, of 529 E. Market St., excessive noise.

Gilligan on crutches due to tennis injury

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan will be on crutches when he visits Toledo Sunday for a fund-raising function and an address at a Lucas County Democratic precinct workers dinner.

Gilligan suffered a torn muscle in his right leg Friday while playing tennis.

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation, London, lifted fingerprints from the pop machine which had been pried open with a tire iron and helped investigate a possible connection between the four arrested persons and another vending machine rifle at the Ohio Rt. 56 and 171 service station and possibly others in Franklin County.

THE TWO JUVENILES were brought to the Fayette County Juvenile Detention Center and Rinehart and Yankey were incarcerated in the county jail.

An 8 a.m. detention hearing was held for the juveniles and Judge Rollo Marchant ruled they could be released to their parents after the Fayette County Sheriff's Department had finished interrogation.

The Ohio Revised Code states a first offense of tampering with a vending machine is a misdemeanor, but any theft offense in the past brings it to a felony. Past records of the suspects are being investigated for this reason.

Charges of tampering with a coin-operated machine and criminal trespass are expected to be filed against the four, according to Deputy Wise.

It was estimated that $100 damage had been done to the machine and $3 or $4 in change was stolen, along with four bottles of pop.

Two larceny reports under investigation

Two boxes of shop tools belonging to a Bloomingburg man were stolen, the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported, and city police report the theft of baseball equipment from an automobile.

The two boxes, containing tools and other items, were stolen from a storage building by thieves who removed the paneling in order to gain entry sometime between April 22-26, sheriff's deputies said.

KSU trials scheduled for Sept. 30

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Frank Battisti has set Sept. 30 as the date for the trial of eight former Ohio National guardsmen indicted in connection with the May 4, 1970 shootings at Kent State University. Battisti set the date Friday in an order covering pretrial disclosure of information.

Under his order, the government has until June 1 to turn over to defense lawyers any statements the eight have made concerning the shootings, including their federal grand jury testimony.

Battisti gave the government until Aug. 1 to turn over all documents, books or photographs to be used by the prosecution, information concerning electronic surveillance of the defendants and names and address of witnesses to be called.

The judge said, however, the witnesses' names do not have to be turned over if disclosure would subject them to harm or coercion.

The eight are charged with depriving student demonstrators of their constitutional rights by wilfully assaulting and intimidating Kent students who were slain or wounded by National Guard gunfire.

Four students died and nine others were wounded in the confrontation between antiwar demonstrators and guardsmen.

Minor crashes investigated

Four minor accidents; three Friday and one Thursday, are listed by city police. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department had one Friday accident on its books.

SHERIFF

FRIDAY, 5:10 a.m. — A car driven by Dewey T. Keaton, 29, Bloomingburg, was moderately damaged when it struck a parked car owned by George F. Downing, Jeffersonville, on private property in Union Township, two miles east of Washington C.H.

POLICE

FRIDAY, 7:33 p.m. — Minor damage resulted when cars driven by Donald G. Shibley, 50, Rt. 1, and Phillip D. Garringer, 17, of 14738 U.S. 35-NW collided on the Car Shine-Car Wash parking lot, 1220 Columbus Ave.

11:15 a.m. — An accident involving a car driven by Daniel W. Osborne, 40, of 229 Delaware St., and a truck driven by Swanson H. Mounts Jr., 32, Greenfield, occurred at the intersection of Court and Hinde streets. Both men claimed injury but were not treated.

10:10 a.m. — A car driven by William Ernst, 50, of 529 Harrison St., struck a parked car owned by Frelan VanMeter, 525 Albin Ave., in the municipal parking lot on S. Fayette Street. Moderate damage was done to the parked car.

THURSDAY, time unknown — A car owned by Beulah Weeters, 231 N. Fayette St., was struck in the rear by a hit-and-run driver while it was parked in a private drive at the rear of her residence. Damage was slight.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

The deep grief of the bereaved family often causes an inability to make decisions, to cope with routine arrangements, to control the emotions. The funeral director, along with the family's spiritual adviser, must use all their resources of character to help the family to work through this difficult time.
